An Introduction to Information Services for Rutgers HRM Students

RUTGERS UNIVERSITY LIBRARIES (RUL)
http://www.libraries.rutgers.edu/
The RUL web site is your first stop for books, databases, and research guides. Use the menus at the top and on the side to access the Library Catalog, article and informational database, Refworks, tutorials, and our custom-made online Library Guides

CAREY/SMLR LIBRARY
http://smlr.rutgers.edu/carey-library
Labor Education Center, 50 Labor Center Way, (732) 932-9513
Donna L. Schulman, Library Director, dlschulman@work.rutgers.edu
Eugene McElroy, Library Associate, mcelroy@work.rutgers.edu
For Hours, see: http://www.libraries.rutgers.edu/rul/h_and_d/h_and_d.shtml

KILMER LIBRARY
75 Avenue E, Livingston Campus
(848) 445-3613
For Hours, see: http://www.libraries.rutgers.edu/rul/h_and_d/h_and_d.shtml

DATABASES AVAILABLE THROUGH RUL
A wealth of periodical and business information databases are available through the library web page. Most popular: Business Source Premier, where you can find articles from scholarly journals and industry magazines on employment, labor relations, and management topics.
RUL Indexes and Databases*:
http://www.libraries.rutgers.edu/rul/indexes/indexes.shtml

RUTGERS UNIVERSITY LIBRARIES RESEARCH GUIDES
Rutgers librarians have developed over 100 online Research Guides to help you find information. These are the two guides on Human Resource Management:
HRM (Human Resource Management) Research: A Quick Guide
http://libguides.rutgers.edu/hrm-quick
Human Resource and Organizational Management
http://libguides.rutgers.edu/humanresources

REFERENCE
Carey Library staff is available during library hours to answer questions about library services and to help with your research. If you cannot come in person, call or e-mail us at the above contact points. In addition, librarians at all RUL Libraries will answer reference questions. You can also ask questions using the Ask A Librarian and Reference Chat services available on the RUL web site.

.