Why study U.S. Labor and Work before the End of Reconstruction?

Reconstruction is just one part of the history James Baldwin wanted America to see. In that sense, the history of our nation remains an inspiration for those who hope to build a freer and more equal America. I am hoping that throughout the semester you will develop a deep appreciation for the continuance of Mr. Baldwin’s words.

How do I get in touch with my instructor?

I invite you to email questions that come up as you work through the readings. If you ever find you did not get the feedback that you needed on an assignment, then just email me, or, for that matter, email me about your thoughts, concerns, comments, or anything else on your mind.

Use the messaging tool in Canvas (sktaylor@rutgers.edu). If you need to meet with me, I can schedule a meeting using the Conferences tool in Canvas.

When a situation arises, how should I keep my instructor informed?

If one of life’s unforeseen events prevents you from completing work, it’s best to inform me right away so that your issue is not left unattended and therefore unknown to me, or brought up too late for me to adequately address and work with you in a timely manner.

If you need accommodations, let me know as soon as possible. You have the right to have your needs met.

How can I be a good citizen in this class?

- You owe it to your peers to submit your work on time, whether participating in a forum or reviewing your peer’s paper. You owe it to yourself, so that you can take full advantage of the points.

What should you be able to know and do by the end of this course? (CORE LEARNING OBJECTIVES)

- Explain the development of some aspect of society or culture over time. (HST)
- Understand different theories about human culture, social identity, economic entities, political systems, and other forms of social organization. (SCL)
- Communicate complex ideas effectively, in standard written English, to a general audience and respond effectively to editorial feedback from peers, instructors, and/or supervisors through successive drafts & revision. (WCr)
- Communicate effectively in modes appropriate to a discipline or area of inquiry; evaluate and critically assess sources and use the conventions of attribution and citation correctly; and analyze and synthesize information and ideas from multiple sources to generate new insights. (WCd)
- Demonstrate an understanding of the perspectives, theories, and concepts in the field of labor and employment relations. (LSER Dept. 1)

- Make an argument using contemporary or historical evidence. (LSER 4)
- Analyze and synthesize information and ideas from multiple sources to generate new insights. (SMLR I)

How will I be evaluated?

About me

Hello. My name is Shawn Taylor. I am a veteran who served as a platoon commander in the United States Marine Corps. In the winter, I ski and snowboard with my son in the Rocky Mountains of Utah and Colorado. In the summer, I hike, bike, surf, and run. I live with my partner Joanne and our beloved rescue dog from Hurricane Harvey, Blue, a formidable mongrel mix of Chihuahua, Dachshund, and Pomeranian.
