INTRODUCTION TO LABOR STUDIES AND EMPLOYMENT RELATIONS
RUTGERS UNIVERSITY
Labor Studies 100:92 online

Fall 2013
Professors Paula Voos and Kevin McQueeney:

Contact information for Professor Voos:
Office phone: 848-932-1748. Cell phone: 732-261-5958. She is available in her office (140 Labor Education Center) most mornings but its best to call to be sure. Professor Voos prefers to answer substantive questions by phone, rather than email; her email is pbvoos@work.rutgers.edu.

Contact information for Professor McQueeney:

Please copy both professors when you email about the course. That way on eof us can be sure to get back to you.

This is an online course that is largely asynchronous. But you do need to be able to schedule an online activity on the following days/times, so plan your schedule accordingly:

- Sat. Oct. 26 from 10:00 a.m.- noon or 1:00-3:00 p.m., or Sun. Oct. 27 from 6:00-8:00 p.m. or 8:00-10:00 p.m. to negotiate the syllabus – this is an online exercise designed to make you familiar with how the negotiating room virtual reality software works and to insure you have suitable computer equipment for the bargaining exercise that takes place later in the course. You will need to give us a first and second choice of days/times.

- Sat. Nov. 23 1:00 – 3:00 p.m. or
  Sat. Nov. 23 7:00-10:00 p.m., or
  Sun. Nov. 24 4:00 – 7:00 p.m. or
  Sun. Nov. 24 7:00 p.m. – 10:00 p.m.
  You will need to give us a first and second choice in order to participate in the bargaining exercise online.

Schedule: The weeks in the course begin on Monday and end on Sunday evening at 11 p.m. You often will have things due on either Thursday evening or Sunday evening, just like any course that meets twice a week. The schedule and the assignments are subject to change.

This course addresses the Social Analysis (SCL) Learning Objectives of SAS:
  h. Understand the bases and development of human and societal endeavors across time and place.
  m. Understand different theories about human culture, social identity, economic entities, political systems, and other forms of social organization.
  n. Apply concepts about human and social behavior to particular questions or situations.
Your progress toward understanding how work, workers, and forms of worker organization fit into these social science goals will be assessed through before/after test items and rubrics applied to written assignments.

Equipment needed: USB Headset with a microphone (other types don’t work well); please do not attempt to use an “open” microphone built into a personal computer because it leads to feedback that will bother other students. You also need a personal computer with broadband connection. An Ipad or other tablet will not be sufficient.

Evaluation (Subject to change via a collective negotiations exercise):
For purposes of grading, there are five components of the course:

- Introductory exercises (Personal information sheet; pre-test participation; negotiate the syllabus exercise participation) (5%)
- 3 Threaded Discussions (Forums) at 10% each (30%)
- Op. Ed. Writing assignment (8%)
- Rights check and union knowledge check (2%)
- Bargaining exercise (10%)
- 3 Quizzes at 12% each (36%)
- One page take home final (9%)

Unit I. The Situation Working People Face Today (Sept. 9 – Oct. 6)

Week 1: Introduction (Sept. 3-8)
- Explore what the course is about and make note of what is required of you.
- Learn how to use Pearson E-college and locate readings & other online resources. There are excellent instructional videos online about the use of the e-college system.
- Post information about yourself for the instructor and other students you will be working with (worth 1% of your grade)
- Take the Pre-test. Your score does not affect your grade but it is important to be sure how your computer will interact with the exam software to prevent later problems. (worth 1% of your grade)

Assignment for this week: Interview at least one parent or grandparent about your family’s work history (preferably more). You do not need to write anything about the interview. It will form the basis of an online discussion next week.

Week 2: Work and Our Lives (Sept. 9-15)

- You and your family’s history of work
- Intergenerational economic mobility and immobility
- Intergenerational transmission of resources (types of economic and social capital)

Watch: Richard Florida interview on Big Think:
http://bigthink.com/ideas/18241

Due week 2: Participate in Forum 1: You need to post at least once by Thursday evening, and then a second time by Sunday evening. Both quantity and quality count so you may want to post beyond this minimum.

Week 3: Corporations & Work in the “New Economy” (Sept. 16-22)

- Corporations – structure, power, and rights
- Old and new forms of work organization
- The rise of contingent work

Read: Sweet & Meskins, Chapter 2, and

Watch: 4 Video excerpts from The Corporation on You-tube.

PBS video, “A Job at Fords” from the series, The Great Depression

Week 4: Social Class in the U.S. (September 23-29)

- Class and opportunity in the U.S.
- Class and social mobility
- Relationship between wealth and power
- Has class faded in American culture?

Read: NYTimes website on Social Class:
http://www.nytimes.com/pages/national/class/

Be sure to read on this site:
(1) the Overview article,
(2) Tamar Lewin “Up from the Holler” and
(3) David Leonhardt “The College Dropout Boom” and
(4) at least two other articles/blogs from the site.
(5) Also read Bob Herbert’s op. ed. linked to the site.
6You should also be sure to do the interactive exercise on the NYTimes site using your family of social origin.
Watch:
   Professor Francis Ryan, Rutgers Labor Studies & Employment Relations Dept. speak about the history of the ideal of social mobility in the U.S. and the reality today.

   Kate Pickett, Big Think Interview, “Why Inequality is Bad for Your Health” http://bigthink.com/katepickett. The rest is optional viewing.

Due in week 4 – nothing. However, you should start working on the assignment that is due on Thursday next week.

Assignment: Write a 500 word Op-Ed. on social class and inequality. You can choose any one of the following three suggestions for a central theme (Op-Eds advocate an idea or a public policy).

   (a) “Social class is real in the United States.” These Op-Eds are typically built around the personal experience of the author, their family, and/or people they know. See the New York Times website on social class for several examples.

   (b) “Widening economic inequality is a big problem in the United States.” This type of Op-Ed needs to be built on facts (the Domhoff reading in week 5 has many) but must be written in a way that is readable, convincing, and often illustrated by either personal experience or that of others.

   (c) “We should reduce economic inequality in the United States by passing the following law.” Here you would need to choose a public policy that would help reduce economic inequality and advocate convincingly for its effectiveness. Explain why it would reduce this current problem.

An Op-Ed is an opinion piece (named such because it is usually placed "opposite the editorials" in a publication) designed to offer an alternate position to what the media provides. Typically, an op-ed is written by an expert in a subject area or in industry. Generally, the goal of an op-ed is to educate the public on an issue. While the op-ed is largely an "opinion" piece, it must be based in fact and should be persuasive in style rather than a simple report. Take the time to edit, reedit and then reedit again. A clean, concise and compelling op-ed is your goal.

Week 5: Economic Inequality Today (Sept. 30 – Oct. 6)
   • Class, race, and gender inequality
   • Does the U.S. have a power pyramid?
   • Health and other effects of income inequality

Read: Sweet & Meskins, Chapter 3, and
