OCCUPATIONAL SAFETY AND HEALTH ONLINE – FALL 2013

Rutgers University
School of Management and Labor Relations
Labor Studies and Employment Relations Department
Course Number: 37:575:338:92

Instructor: Barry Schlegel, EdD, CIH
Email: schlegba@gmail.com
Cell: 908-279-5296
Office Location: By Appointment
Office Hours: By Appointment

Note: The syllabus may be revised during the course. Students will be apprised of all changes.

Course Description:

Work has an impact on physical and psychological health. In this course, students will explore the health and safety issues of various types of work. Students will gain an understanding of the current state of occupational safety and health in the United States and globally including the enforcement of laws regulating occupational safety and health and the roles of workers, unions, and employers. The historical, economic, and cultural forces contributing to and inhibiting solutions to occupational safety and health problems will be analyzed.

Course Expectations:

This course requires that you:

- Complete the Week 1 Intro Assignment;
- Write a paper on your family occupational safety and health history;
- Write an occupational safety and health case study;
- Complete ten weekly forums;
- Participate in forum discussions;
- Take a midterm exam; and
- Complete all required course readings and video viewings.

Learning Goals and Objectives:

How does this course meet the Labor Studies and Employment Relations (LSER) Department’s overall learning objectives?

- Analyze a contemporary global issue in labor & employment relations from a multidisciplinary perspective
- Analyze issues of social justice related to work across local and global contexts
- Work productively in teams, in social networks, and on an individual basis
What are the learning objectives for this course?

- Gain a historical, economic, and organizational perspective of OSH;
- Investigate current OSH problems and solutions;
- Identify the forces that influence OSH; and
- Demonstrate the knowledge and skills needed to identify and advance safe, healthy work for oneself or others.

Required Books and Videos:

You are not required to purchase books. Materials such as book chapters, articles, and audio or visual clips will be available in e-college.

Evaluation:

Grades will be based on each of the following activities:

<table>

*The lowest Forum Grade for one of the Forums #2 through #9 will not be counted.

Grading Scale (%):

- A: 90 – 100
- B+: 85 – 89
- B: 80 – 84
- C+: 75 – 79
- C: 70 – 74
- D: 60 – 70
- F: < 60

In addition, I may increase or decrease your grade for exceptional (good or bad) class participation and performance – ordinarily by one level (for example, between B and B+), but possibly more.

Forums

An important way to learn on-line is by participating in forums: a discussion group where students interact through a series of posts about a particular topic. Students can communicate their insights and thoughts in a threaded discussion pertaining to a topic, as well as learn from one another in the process. Threaded discussions are also a means for the instructor to identify whether or not a student comprehends required reading assignments. Forums include instructor-generated questions and student-to-student interaction.
Points have no “absolute meaning,” – in the end, I will use my judgment in translating points into grades for the course. Implicitly, that means that grades are “curved” in the sense that they are comparative. The comparison is both to other students taking the class this semester and with those who took the class in the past.

Assessment of Online Forums

It is possible to earn up to 345 points by excellence in participation in a total of ten forums. The lowest grade for one of the Forums #2 through #9 will not be counted towards your final total score. The grades for Forums #1 and #10 will always count.

The forum is like a class discussion with a set of questions. A forum is an interactive discussion and your contribution will be evaluated on a scale from minimally adequate to exceptional, with more typical responses being in the good to excellent range. The score reflects:

- How often you participated. Signing on three times to interact with other students regarding one of the questions is minimally adequate, whereas more extensive participation earns you more points.
- Was your participation interactive? Remember, this is a discussion – it is better to demonstrate understanding of the ideas of others before going on to your own opinion than to just “splash” your own ideas onto the page and never really interact with others.
- Were your comments thoughtful and based on the readings? Did they reflect an accurate understanding of the material being discussed or were they riddled with errors regarding the course material.
- Were your opinions backed up with personal experience or other types of evidence? Did you draw on readings from other courses, current news, or online sources of information in a manner that contributes to the discussion?
- Were your comments expressed clearly and appropriately? Do they show mastery of persuasive written English? Please do not “flame” in these forums; be courteous of others who will be reading your comments.

Keep current – avoid being late!

This is an interactive class – you need to keep current in the readings, viewings, and discussion forums to effectively interact with others in the class. You can only participate in forums when they are open.

You should inform me of serious personal emergencies that arise – for instance, hospitalization that makes it impossible to get online. A trip associated with your job is not such an emergency, nor is a problem with your personal computer. There are many ways to get online in hotels, in campus computing facilities, or public libraries. An online class is somewhat flexible with regard to your schedule but you must be responsible for managing your time and for getting online each week no matter what else is going on in your life. In general, I recommend that you sign into the class AT LEAST 3 times a week and that you check your Rutgers email each day.

For more information on forums refer to the Forum Guidelines document in e-college.

Midterm:

The midterm exam (130 points) will cover concepts and competencies students learned in the first half of the semester. The exam will consist of true/false, multiple choice, matching, and short answer questions.
Writing Assignments:

Students will write two papers – the OSH Family History (100 points) and an OSH case study (400 points). Case study instructions will be provided in a separate document.

Grading Criteria for Written Submissions (paper, case study, and forums):

Content. Writing should reflect careful, thorough consideration of the topic. Writing should also demonstrate careful reading of the course material and cite all sources that were consulted when preparing the assignment. Papers should have a clear thesis statement and a strong conclusion.

Mechanics. Writing should demonstrate college level competence in grammar and style. Students with unsatisfactory writing skills will be encouraged to seek additional assistance from tutorial resources.

Late submissions:
- Assignments:
  - 25% point deduction for late submissions up to one week after due date
  - 50% point deduction for late submissions more than one week and up to two weeks after the due date
  - No points will be given for late submissions in excess of two weeks
- Forums posts will not be accepted once the forum is closed and the discussion is over. Points may be deducted for late postings during the time period allowed for the forum.

Extra credit:
No extra credit assignments will be allowed except in extraordinary circumstances.

Honor Code and Academic Integrity:

Academic integrity requires that all academic work be wholly the product of an identified individual or individuals. Joint efforts are legitimate only when the assistance of others is explicitly acknowledged and permitted by the assignment.

Ethical conduct is the obligation of every member of the University community, and breaches of academic integrity constitute serious offenses. Any such issues will be submitted to the Dean of the Labor Studies and Employment Relations Department, as appropriate. Students must assume responsibility for maintaining honesty in all work submitted for credit and in any other work designated by the instructor of the course. Students are also expected to report incidents of academic dishonesty to the instructor or dean of the instructional unit.

Students are expected to abide by the Rutgers University Code of Student Conduct. They are to conduct themselves with honesty and integrity. Under no circumstances should text from other sources be copied word-for-word without being enclosed in quotation marks and the source referenced.
Review the Rutgers’ academic integrity statement at this link:
http://studentconduct.rutgers.edu/academic-integrity

Most academic integrity problems that arise are not intentional but are the consequence of failing to appropriately and carefully cite sources. Avoid plagiarism or other violations of academic integrity! Your written work (forums, papers, and the case study) will be submitted to “Turnitin.com” to insure that your answers are yours alone – not answers from another student, from the web, or another source. Be careful not to “copy” phrases or sentences excessively from the readings. The goal is to put the ideas into your own words.
