Objectives: Analysis of major issues in employment law, including laws protecting employees from race, sex, religion, disability, and age discrimination, as well as wage and hour laws and laws covering employee privacy, workers compensation, unemployment insurance, immigration and safety and health.

This course will help students to understand the basic framework of employment law in the United States and to develop the ability to think critically and to read, analyze and evaluate legal statutes and decisions. Students will learn to identify, understand, and explain conflicting views on legal and policy arguments.

Text: Labor and Employment Law: Text and Cases (15th Ed.) by David P. Twomey. (“Twomey”). NOTE: This textbook is also available from CENGAGE.com as an eBook or eChapters may be purchased individually. Readings are from Chapters 11 through 18 only.

Supplemental Readings will be distributed and/or available on SAKAI throughout the semester. Additional readings may be added during the course of the semester as the law evolves.

Attendance and Grading Policies: Students are expected to attend all classes and to actively participate in all exercises and discussions. 20% of the final grade will be based upon attendance and participation. Participation includes contribution to discussions in class and full participation in classroom exercises.

Attendance will be taken for each class. I expect that all reading assigned for each class will be completed BEFORE class. Any student who must miss a class for illness or other emergency is expected to contact me via e-mail or telephone prior to class explaining the reason for the absence. All cellphones, beepers, PDA’s, and other electronic devices (except for laptop computers, or other devices, used to take notes) shall be turned off and put away during class.
HOMEWORK: Each student is required to submit electronically through SAKAI before class begins, a case brief for one major case included in the reading each week for ten weeks of class. (See handout). There are eleven weeks of class that include case readings. Each student is free to skip one case brief, and is required to turn in the assigned case brief for each of the remaining ten weeks. Students may select which case is briefed each week, so long as it is either a case provided on Sakai or is a case with the case caption in bold face in the text. Failure to turn in the case briefs ON TIME will result in a loss of credit for the attendance and participation grade for that class. THERE WILL BE NO EXTENSIONS FOR HOMEWORK ASSIGNMENTS. Homework will count for 10% of the final grade.

Assignments and Examinations: There will be two written assignments during the course of the semester. These assignments will be 2-3 typed pages and will be similar in style and content to exam questions. These two assignments will account for 20% of the final grade.

Students will complete midterm examination on March 14, 2013, which will account for 25% of the final grade.

Students will complete a final examination on May 9, 2013, which will account for 25% of the final grade.
