COURSE OBJECTIVES

- To familiarize students with the judicial legal process and reasoning;

- To examine fundamental issues of employment law, including: the employment at-will doctrine and its exceptions; the various rights, duties and responsibilities employees and employers have towards each other and the general public; and employment discrimination on the basis of race, color, sex, national origin, religion, disability and age. Additional issues may, time willing, include worker protections such as the Family Medical Leave Act, the Fair Labor Standards Act, and Worker’s Compensation

- To provide students with the tools for further study of employment regulation.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

This is an introductory undergraduate course in employment law. However, it emphasizes student participation and group discussion. Students will be held responsible for reading and understanding all assigned materials, as well as participating fully in all class discussions. Attendance is a must, and failure to attend class will result in a poor “Class Attendance & Participation” grade.

GRADE CRITERION

Class Attendance and Participation (10%)
   In Class Quiz 1 (30%)
   In Class Quiz 2 (30%)
   In Class Final Exam (30%)
COURSE MATERIALS

- In addition, course reading materials are only available on Sakai. Please be sure to print them out. The reading selections are mostly cases, but may also consist of self-explanatory handouts, which have been selected by me from several websites.
