Preventing Sexual Harassment in the Workplace

In this class students will learn how the term “sexual harassment” is defined both at Rutgers and in American law governing the workplace, understand the responsibility of the employer and the employee under the law, and consider the relationship between gender identity and sexual harassment.

Specific Learning objectives:

- How they might deal with harassment should they experience it, given Rutgers’ policies and procedures for student-student or employee-student harassment,
- What is, and what is not, sexual harassment in current American law,
- How the law of sexual harassment relates to legal concepts like employment at will, hostile workplace environments, due process, and class actions,
- How sexual harassment relates to gender, to sexual orientation, and to related hierarchies of power in the workplace, and
- How organizations might prevent harassment of all types.

Student learning will be assessed primarily by an objective exam covering readings, lectures, speakers, and group exercises.

Grading will be based on participation and the final exam. Specifically:

- 30 points. Attendance and participation in group exercises done in class; demonstrated respect for others is essential – that is, participation includes listening skills as well as individual contribution to the exercises.
- 20 points. Knowledge of readings and course concepts demonstrated through class discussion, group leadership, and contributions made in group exercises.
- 50 points. Final exam on May 4th.

There also will be an opportunity to earn 5 additional extra credit points on the final.

Laptop/Recording Policy:

Students are permitted to bring and use a laptop computer in class, for taking notes and viewing class readings. However, please do not engage in laptop-related activities that may distract other students. Students are not permitted to record, videotape, or photograph any classroom lecture or activity, absent prior express consent and authorization by the Instructor.
Issues in Work: Avoiding Sexual Harassment
37:575:294:02
Sunday, 1:00 pm to 3:50 pm, Auditorium 137

Expected behavior: Please turn off cell-phones. Please arrive on time and stay until the class ends.

Session I: March 30, 2014

Sexual Harassment

Sexual harassment in the workplace. What is and what is not harassment?

What should you do if you are harassed? How can you avoid being accused of harassment when you do not intend anything serious?

Workplace respect and employer programs to reduce sexual harassment

Read for Session I (Reading is available on Sakai)

Session II: April 6, 2014

The Law; Employer and Employee Responsibility; Human Rights and Enforcement

Employment law as a context for understanding sexual harassment issues

Read for Session II (Reading is available on Sakai):

Session III: April 13, 2014
Sexual harassment on college campuses nationwide. Student-student and employee-student issues.

Read for Session III (Reading is available on Sakai):

Rutgers goes well beyond the legal definition of harassment to prohibit a variety of things that might lead to problems. Many employers follow suit. Why?

Sexual Harassment Policies in the Workplace; employer liability

Sex at Work: right or wrong?

Session IV: April 27, 2014

Gender issues in the workplace and harassment; the importance of power

Same gender harassment

Case Study: Onclave vs. Sundower

Group Exercise

Reading for Session IV (Reading is available on Sakai):

Session V: May 4, 2014

Exam
Issues in Work: Avoiding Sexual Harassment
37:575:294:02
Sunday, 1:00 pm to 3:50 pm, Auditorium 137
This short answer/objective exam covers both what is discussed in class and what is in the reading, whether or not it is discussed in class.