Course Requirements

Reading, Audio/Video Assignments
Reading

Audio/Video
Students are required to watch instructor generated and other video presentations. All video material is provided through links within the course shell.

Writing Assignments

Two writing assignments require students to reflect on course material, engage in online searches to connect employment law concepts with current events and perceptions, and develop/state opinions. Students will choose a topic for their second writing assignment early in the semester. Writing assignments are organized into three sections: overview, reflection, resources.

Writing Assignment #1: Biography: Introduction & Connection with Employment Law Topics
Writing Assignment #2 A and B: Contemporary Issues: Employment Discrimination or Employee Rights

Peer Review and Comment on Writing Assignments

Students read and reflect on the content of each other’s writing assignments. Students exhibit their knowledge of employment law and critical thinking skills when defending their opinions shared within their comments. A minimum of 4 separate comments on 4 different writing assignments 2A and 4 separate comments on 4 separate writing assignments 2B are required.

Forums

There will be 2 forums or threaded discussions. The first forum will begin in week 4 of the class and the second will begin in week 12. Students will be required to make three substantive comments in each forum. The forums will be based on topics of particular interest in the field of employment law.

Exams

Students complete 2 exams during the semester. Exams focus on required course material addressed in weeks listed below. Weeks 1/2 – 7: Assessed in the mid-term exam in week 8 of the class.

Exams consist of true/false and multiple choice questions. Each exam is open for 3 days, during this period students may enter the online exam area to complete the exam. A 1 hour limit is set for each exam.

Grading

A final grade is based on a 1000 point system. Each assignment is worth a specific number of points. Total points accumulated determines final course grade.

Writing Assignments: Two writing assignments 370 points

Writing Assignment Comments: Eight comments 160 points

Two Forums: Six Comments 120 points

Exams: Two exams 350 points
