COURSE OVERVIEW

This course will introduce and overview the major topics in Human Resource Management (HRM). HRM is a fundamental component of the competitiveness, effectiveness, and sustainability of any organization, as it influences who is hired, how they are trained, evaluated, compensated, and what steps are taken to retain them. In turn, HRM plays a critical role in predicting employees' behavior, attitudes, and performance. In other words, if an organization wants good people, it must practice good HRM.

COURSE MATERIAL

Optional Text: Phillips, J, & Gully, S. (2013-2014). Human Resource Management. Mason, OH: South-Western, ISBN-13: 978-1-111-53355-7

Class Material: All class material, including PowerPoint slides for the lectures and all assigned article readings, will be posted on the course's Sakai website: https://sakai.rutgers.edu (use your eden ID and password). Please be prepared with the material before coming to class.

DETAILS ON COURSE REQUIREMENTS

EXAMINATIONS

Three exams will cover all course material, including lectures, discussions, exercises, and readings. Each exam will cover approximately one-third of the course material. The exams will be non-cumulative. There is also an optional cumulative final exam, which will be held on Friday, May 9th from 9:00am-11:00am. You may use this final exam grade to replace your lowest of the three prior exam grades, or you may opt out of taking this final and retain the scores on the first three exams.

Make-up policy: The dates of the three exams are noted on the course agenda. An exam grade of zero (0) will be assigned to any student who is absent without a legitimate excuse on the date of a regularly scheduled test. Legitimate excuses include illness (verified with a note from a doctor), inclement weather (when Rutgers Information Service, 732-932-INFO, indicates that Rutgers is closed), when the instructor emails the class announcing that class is suspended, or other critical circumstances such as a death in the family. A make-up exam will be held at a time when all students who need to make up the exam can be present. An officially cancelled exam will be held at the next scheduled class period. Whereas regularly scheduled (and officially re-scheduled) exams are in multiple-choice format, all make-up exams are in essay/short-answer format.

PARTICIPATION

Participation is comprised of 80% poll responses/attendance (40 points) and 20% in-class discussion (10 points). Students are expected to attend every class. Points can be gained for insightful contributions to class and good attendance, and points can be lost for frequent absenteeism, being unprepared, and misconduct during class. For each class session, you are expected to have read the assigned reading(s) for that particular session, as well as be prepared to discuss topics in class. There are four reasons it will be valuable to attend class:

- 1. Exam questions are drawn from lectures, readings, exercises, and class discussion, so missing lectures will hurt your exam performance.
- 2. In class, students are asked to answer questions posed in lecture by responding to polls (see section on Polling, below, for instructions). These polls will most frequently correspond to assigned article readings, to highlight important take-aways, and serve as attendance.
- 3. Several of the lecture periods will include completion of a related exercise/activity. Although these exercises are not graded, they help students to utilize course concepts to give them direct, concrete experiences that are applicable to their personal and professional needs. Further, participating in these exercises will often give you the opportunity to interact with your fellow students. I try to emphasize teamwork and a collaborative, supportive work environment, and I strongly believe that learning and development should be structured to provide support and feedback not only from the instructor but also from your peers.
- 4. Personally, I value the diversity that students bring to the classroom. Students come from a variety of backgrounds with a wide range of knowledge, motivation, and interests. I really appreciate and enjoy hearing your viewpoints!

EXTRA CREDIT

There are several extra credit opportunities, for a total of 9 possible points: (1) Present one example of an HRM issue in the news or entertainment media (excerpts from movies or TV shows, or articles from newspapers or magazines) and explain how it illustrates a relevant topic in approximately 500 words. This is worth 3 points, maximum. Assignments must be submitted via Sakai ("Assignments") no later than Friday, May 2nd at 11:59 p.m. to receive credit. (2) Students who answer the greatest number of poll questions correctly prior to each exam will earn 2 points extra credit toward their respective exam grade (for 6 possible points). Yes, you may complete all extra credit options.

POLLING

During lectures throughout the semester, I will often present you with polls and ask you to answer them using a website called Poll Everywhere. This site allows you to respond to polls in a number of different ways, including (1) your cellular phone, via text message, (2) the web browser on your laptop, iPad/tablet, or cell phone, and (3) twitter. This means that you are permitted, on a restricted basis, to use these devices during class. Cell phones are strictly prohibited beyond use for responding to polls.

Your responses to these polls will not be graded for accuracy, but they will serve three primary purposes. First, they allow me to take attendance (which is a proportion of your participation grade). Second, I will use them to see if everyone is on the same page, is grasping the information, or if I need to spend more time on certain topics. Finally, correct answers contribute toward the leaderboard, and the potential to earn extra credit (see the "Extra Credit" section).

In order for me to keep track of who responds to the polls (and for you to get credit for attending class), you will need to register with the Poll Everywhere website at least 24 hours prior to attending our first class session. This means you must be registered by Monday, January 20th.

To register, please visit this link and follow the instructions: www.polleverywhere.com/register?p=2cwgm-gb83&pg=NCrfCx7. It should take less than 5 minutes.

A couple of important notes:

- 1. Upon accessing the link provided above, you may see the statement "You're registering as a participant for Rebecca A Tinkham, Rebecca A's account." The HRM department has a group license, under which all of the faculty members who want to use this polling system have accounts. Rebecca Tinkham is the Undergraduate staff coordinator for our department, and she is also listed as the administrator on the Poll Everywhere departmental license. Please ignore that it lists her name, and continue to follow the instructions as I've provided them.
- 2. Be sure to complete all steps in the registration process, including certification of your cell phone (if you intend to text your responses).
- 3. If you are already registered with Poll Everywhere for a different class in the HR department, please email the course TA, Robert, and he will add you to my specific course.
- 4. In part, this is how participation/attendance is tabulated. Coming to class late, or attending but not responding to that day's polls, will be considered as non-attendance. It is your responsibility to respond to the polls so that your attendance/participation is recorded.
- 5. You may check your own responses to confirm submission by logging in to the Poll Everywhere website (www.polleverywhere.com) and clicking on My Response History. I encourage you to keep track of your responses so that issues don't arise too late in the semester.

Keep in mind that in order to participate, you will need to bring a cell phone, laptop, iPad or other tablet with you to class. You are not penalized if you do not have access to any of these devices, but please email me at imethot@smlr.rutgers.edu so we can figure something else out.

CHAIN OF INQUIRY

If you have any course-related questions during the semester (e.g., general questions about assignments, grading policies, exams, due dates): First, check the syllabus. Second, visit the Sakai course Discussion page. Under "General Questions," check previous postings to see if the question has already been handled. If your concern isn't addressed through one of these means then, third, post your question on the question board (be sure to include the topic of your question in the subject line). If after 24 hours your question has not been addressed, then, fourth, send an email to Robert at rbarrettTA@gmail.com. Be sure to include the topic of your question in the subject line of the email.

If you have any concept-related inquiries during the semester (e.g., you would like a concept or theory clarified, you would like additional information about a concept), visit the Exams section of the discussion board. If your inquiry has not already been addressed, post your inquiry there. If after 24 hours your question has not been answered, send an email to me at jmethot@smlr.rutgers.edu.

NOTE: You, as a member of the class, are welcome to answer your fellow students' questions when posted on the Discussion board. In fact, you are encouraged to do so! You can all benefit from each other's knowledge and support. I will check others' responses for accuracy.

University Guidelines and Resources

ACADEMIC HONESTY

The University's policy on cheating and use of copyrighted materials is enforced in this class. Students are expected to pursue knowledge with integrity. Please refer to the Academic Integrity Policy for more detail regarding these policies: http://academicintegrity.rutgers.edu/academic-integrity-at-rutgers

All students registered for this course are asked to sign an Academic Integrity Contract (refer to the last two pages of this syllabus). You must return a signed copy to me or Robert (the course TA) and keep a copy for yourself. This contract includes detailed explanations of behavior that constitutes plagiarism and cheating. Examples of a breach of this contract with regard to this specific course include, but are not limited to: sharing your answers or copying another student's answers on examinations; sending a fellow student who did not attend class the answers to a poll to falsely indicate their presence; copying material that is not your own without providing proper documentation (in the example of the HRM media extra credit). In the event that this contract is breached, the punishment can range from receiving a failing grade on the assignment, to being placed on disciplinary probation or permanent expulsion from Rutgers.

STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

Students requesting accommodations for disabilities should contact the Office of Disability Services to determine his/her Coordinator. The Coordinator will then provide documentation to the student. Upon review and approval, the student must then provide this documentation to the instructor. Please refer to the Office of Disability Services for Students for more detail regarding this policy: http://disabilityservices.rutgers.edu/request.html

TENTATIVE COURSE SCHEDULE

Academic Integrity Contract

All members of the Rutgers University community are expected to behave in an ethical and moral fashion, respecting the human dignity of all members of the community and resisting behavior that may cause danger or harm to others through violence, theft, or bigotry. All members of the Rutgers University community are expected to adhere to the civil and criminal laws of the local community, state, and nation, and to regulations promulgated by the University. All members of the Rutgers University community are expected to observe established standards of scholarship and academic freedom by respecting the intellectual property of others and by honoring the right of all students to pursue their education in an environment free from harassment and intimidation. Please see http://policies.rutgers.edu/PDF/Section10/10.2.11-current.pdf for details regarding the Student Code of Conduct. Please see http://academicintegrity.rutgers.edu/files/documents/AI Policy 9 01 2011.pdf for details regarding the Academic Integrity Policy.

Similarly, all students and faculty members of the academic community at the School of Management and Labor Relations should uphold high standards for personal conduct, ethical behavior, and professional integrity. In the area of academic integrity, students are expected to refrain from cheating, fabricating information, plagiarizing, inappropriately denying others access to material, and facilitating others in academic dishonesty. Please see http://policies.rutgers.edu/PDF/Section10/10.2.11-current.pdf (pp. 24-28) for detailed descriptions of each type of action.

Any of the following acts, when committed by a student, is an act of academic dishonesty and decreases the genuine achievements of other students and scholars. Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, any of the following:

Plagiarism/False Representation of Work

- Quoting directly or paraphrasing portions of someone else's work without acknowledging the source.
- Submitting the same work, or major portions thereof, including presentations, to satisfy the requirements of more than one course without permission from the instructor.
- Using data or interpretative material for a report or presentation without acknowledging the sources or the collaborators.
- Failing to acknowledge assistance from others, such as help with research, statistical analysis, or field data collection, in a paper, examination, or project report.
- Submitting purchased materials such as a term paper as your own work.
- Copying or presenting material verbatim from any source without using quotation marks.
- Copying from any source and altering a few words to avoid exact quotation, without the appropriate documentation or by using improper documentation of the source.
- Rewording the major concept found in a source but then omitting documentation or improperly citing the source.
- Submitting as one's own any work created by someone else (e.g., paper, project, speech, video, exercise, etc.) without crediting them. Large duplication of someone else's work should be avoided unless you obtain express permission from both the instructor and originator of the work.
- Fabricating or misrepresenting data or information
- Forging signatures

Cheating

- Copying work on examinations.
- Acting to facilitate copying during an exam.
- Sharing answers through technology or in written or verbal form when such interactions are prohibited

- Using prohibited materials, such as books, notes, phones, or calculators during an examination.
- Working with another student on an assignment when such collaboration is prohibited.
- Stealing or having in one's possession without permission any materials, or property belonging to or having been generated by faculty, staff, or another student for the course.
- Willfully offering to do another student's work so they may represent it as their own
- Assisting another student in cheating or plagiarizing
- Doing another student's work, excluding collaborative learning assignments or joint assignments approved by the instructor.
