Please copy all professors when you email about the course. That way one of us can be sure to get back to you.

Contact information for Professor Voos:
Cell phone: 732-261-5958. She is available to speak by phone most mornings but its best to text to be sure. Professor Voos prefers to answer substantive questions about subject matter in the course by phone, rather than email. Email is great for many things: pbvoos@SMLR.rutgers.edu. You can also email her in the internal Canvas email system

Contact information for Professor Craig:
Emails work best when trying to contact Professor Craig. She can be reached at: silvanac@docs.rutgers.edu
You can do this in Canvas and the system will send a notification to Professor Craig.

Schedule: The weeks in the course begin on Monday and end on Sunday evening at 11:59 p.m. You often will have things due on either Thursday evening or Sunday evening, just like any course that meets twice a week. The schedule and the assignments are subject to change. This is an online course that is largely asynchronous.

In this section, you will then have a CHOICE as to doing either:

1) a synchronous (live at a particular time) team-based collective bargaining exercise that requires planning with the team, and then bargaining with the opposing union or management team at the Labor Education Center in New Brunswick or online using “Big Blue Button.” We highly recommend in person bargaining for those who are able to do that. But if your internet connection is not fast and reliable or if you live in a different time zone, this probably won’t work out well.

2) an individual paper of about 5 pages, after visiting one of a number of labor related museums (see the Appendix). This might be a better choice if museums are open and your life makes a group activity difficult or if you do not have a strong internet connection. To be honest, the collective bargaining exercise is probably more fun, but students have also found the museum visits to be worthwhile.

3) an individual paper of about 5 pages regarding the relationship between the COVID-19 economic crisis and particular things you are learning about in the course. See the essay prompt in the shell for details.

Choice of activity or paper (do either this or one of the two individual paper assignments): Participation in a collective bargaining exercise as a member of a union or management team. First you meet and then you bargain with an “opposing” team. You must have a fast internet connection and a good personal computer to bargain online – a cell phone, Chromebook, or working in a student computing center won’t be sufficient.

Meet ONLINE Wed. Nov. 4; Bargain Wed. Nov. 18 -- both from 1:00-4:00 p.m.

Meet ONLINE Fri. Nov. 6: Bargain Friday Nov. 20 -- both from 6:00-9:00p.m.

Meet ONLINE Sat. Nov. 7; Bargain Sat. Nov. 21 - both from 9:00 am – 12:00 noon.

Meet ONLINE Sun. Nov. 8; Bargain Sunday Nov. 22 from 1:00-4:00p.m.

We would truly appreciate it if you could give us a choice of times because we realize some students will be limited to one particular schedule and we need to have good teams for all.

Learning Objectives for this course follow. The student is able to:

Core Curriculum: SCL
- Understand different theories about human culture, social identity, economic entities, political systems and other forms of social organization. (Goal SCL-1).

School of Management and Labor Relations:
- Demonstrate an understanding of relevant theories and apply them given the background context of a particular work situation. (Goal IV)
- Demonstrate an understanding of how to apply knowledge necessary for effective work performance. (Goal VI)

Labor Studies and Employment Relations Department:
- Demonstrate an understanding of the perspectives, theories and concepts in the field of labor and employment relations. (Goal 1).
- Apply those concepts, and substantive institutional knowledge, to understanding contemporary developments related to work. (Goal 2).

Additional course objective from the instructors:
- Students will be able to apply facts and concepts from the course to argue convincingly against common contemporary fallacies related to employment relations.

Text: Stephen Sweet and Peter Meiksins. Changing Contours of Work: Jobs and Opportunities in the New Economy. 3rd Edition. Sage, 2017. (Please note: the second and third editions are similar, although the latter is more up to date. The first is very different – do not use it).

Grades:
For purposes of grading, there are multiple components of the course:

- Introductory exercises (Personal information/choice of exercise; pre-test participation) (3%)
- Threaded Discussions (Forums) (40%)
- Rights check and union knowledge check at 1% each (2%)
• Bargaining exercise or museum paper (10%)
• 3 Quizzes at 12% each (36%)
• Short take-home final (9%)

The professors reserve the right to determine the division between B and B+ etc., although in many years B+ starts at an overall average of 88. That cutoff is subject to change each semester.

Disability
Rutgers University welcomes students with disabilities into all of the University's educational programs. In order to receive consideration for reasonable accommodations, a student with a disability must contact the appropriate disability services office at the campus where you are officially enrolled, participate in an intake interview, and provide documentation: https://ods.rutgers.edu/students/documentation-guidelines. If the documentation supports your request for reasonable accommodations, your campus’s disability services office will provide you with a Letter of Accommodations. Please share this letter with your instructors and discuss the accommodations with them as early in your courses as possible. To begin this process, please complete the Registration form on the ODS web site at: https://ods.rutgers.edu/students/registration-form.

Appendix. Labor-related museum visit and paper.

1. Visit one of the following locations listed below. Take a picture of yourself at the location or scanned program from the location to document you were physically there. You will upload this separately.

2. Write a five-page (double spaced) paper in which you describe your experience and the content of the museum exhibit. In your essay address some of the following questions:

   Why did you choose to visit that place?

   What did you learn from your visit?

   What did you like most about the museum?

   What did you like most about the exhibits? What would you have changed if you could?

   How is the location connected to the course or a specific part of the course?

   How did your knowledge and background of labor studies change the lens in which you viewed the exhibits?

   What readings from this course were helpful for viewing and understanding the exhibits?

   Would you recommend visiting to other students in the class? Why or why not?

Please feel free to comment on other aspects of the visit that may not be addressed in the above questions.

Locations to visit (choose any one):

1. The Tenement Museum in NYC. Go to http://www.tenement.org/ for information. There are a variety of tours and you may need to sign up in advance.

2. The American Labor Museum at the Botto House in Patterson, NJ. Go to http://www.labormuseum.net/ for information. There are also good walking tours in Patterson.

4. Roebling Museum in Burlington County -- http://roeblingmuseum.org/ If you go to this one be sure to also investigate the big strikes that occurred in this company town.

5. Seabrook Museum -- in far South Jersey near Vineland -- http://www.seabrookeducation.org/ The history of Seabrook includes a united black/white Communist-influenced 1934 strike, battles with the Klan, the owner’s use of every group possible to keep down labor costs (Japanese internees, Estonian refugees, German POWs, etc.).

6. Philadelphia History Museum (formerly the Atwater-Kent) in downtown Philly -- http://www.philadelphiahistory.org/ (Links to an external site.) -- A general history museum, but includes ethnic and worker-related exhibits. They have a lot of the material objects (most not displayed) from the late great Balch Ethnic Institute and some suggested walking tours of city neighborhoods. Visit a part of the museum related to labor studies. (This museum may be closed... see #8 and #9 for other museums close to Philadelphia).

7. Nearer to the Lehigh Valley Area, Pennsylvania, the Bethlehem Steel Stacks, in Pennsylvania, runs tours. If you do this one, also investigate the history of the union there. Go to http://www.historicbethlehem.org (Links to an external site.) for information.

8. Camden Shipyard Maritime Museum is more promising: https://www.camdenshipyardmuseum.org/exhibits (Links to an external site.). The Camden museum seems to have limited hours, but it should be open (it is a relatively new museum): https://www.camdenshipyardmuseum.org/exhibits (Links to an external site.)

9. (Links to an external site.)The African American Museum in Philadelphia also has a permanent exhibit on African Americans in Philadelphia from 1776-1876, which would of course touch on the themes of race, civil rights, and social class: https://www.aampmuseum.org/current-exhibitions.html
