GRANTS AND CONTRACTS:

Disability and Voting Accessibility in the 2020 Elections. Lisa Schur and Douglas Kruse. This $318,000 contract from the U.S. Election Assistance Commission funded a post-election national survey of 2569 people on disability and voting in the 2020 elections. Report was delivered February 17, 2021.

Disability Inclusive Employment Policy RRTC (Rehabilitation Research and Training Center). Douglas Kruse, Lisa Schur, Mason Ameri, and Yana Rodgers. Funded by U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. Project period 2020-2025. Center is based at Syracuse with Rutgers and Harvard as partners. Doug Kruse is PI on the Rutgers subaward of $943,000, and co-PI on the overall award of $4,375,000 based at Syracuse.

Disability and Assistive Technology. Douglas Kruse, Lisa Schur, Mason Ameri, and Hazel-Anne Johnson. “SFW-HTF-RL: Collaborative Research: Future of Work for People with Disabilities – Physical and Cognitive Training Through Perceptive and Adaptive Soft (PECASO) Wearable Robots.” Funded by National Science Foundation. Project period 2020-2024. Project is based at CUNY with Rutgers as partner. Doug Kruse is PI on the Rutgers subaward of $619,279, and co-PI on the overall award of $1,884,010 based at CUNY.

Employee Ownership and Employment Stability. Co-PI with Fidan Kurtulus for $40,000 grant from W.E. Upjohn Institute for Employment Research, 2012-2014. We examined public employee ownership firms over the 1999-2011 period, analyzing their employment stability and survival during the two recessions. The results were published in a book in 2014.

Disability Discrimination and Job Requirements. Co-PI for $200,000 grant from Employment Policy Rehabilitation Research and Training Center, based at University of New Hampshire and funded by National Institute on Disability and Rehabilitation Research, 2010-2015. This project matches data on disability earnings gaps by occupation to data on occupational job tasks and ability requirements, examining whether disability earnings gaps are limited to occupations in which an impairment should limit productivity, or instead also exist in occupations where impairments do not limit productivity, which would support the idea that discrimination is at work.

Organizational Practices and Disability. Co-investigator for $500,000 grant from the Office of Disability Employment Policy, U.S. Department of Labor, 2006-2007. A consortium of Rutgers, Cornell, and Syracuse researchers worked with three other research partners and six companies to study how corporate policies and practices, and manager and co-worker attitudes, can limit or facilitate employment opportunities for people with disabilities. The researchers developed case study standards and methodology, and then applied them in six case studies. The information from the case studies will provide lessons about what works in diverse settings, helping companies develop "best practices" for employing people with disabilities and providing a platform for ongoing benchmarking and self-evaluation.

Disability and Demand-side Employment Placement Models. Co-investigator for $2.5 million grant in collaboration with Syracuse University and the University of Illinois, 2006-2011, from the National Institute on Disability and Rehabilitation Research, U.S. Dept. of Education. This establishes a 5-year center to study factors affecting employer demand for people with disabilities. The Rutgers projects include studies on contingent work, worker displacement, and 10-year projections of demand for specific abilities.

Desired and Actual Work Arrangements Among People with Disabilities. Principal investigator for $51,350 in grants for putting disability questions on the 2006 General Social Survey. In combination with two work modules (the Work Orientation module and the Quality of Work Life module), these data provide the first representative estimates of desired work arrangements among both employed and non-employed people with disabilities, and the attitudes and experiences of employed people with disabilities.

Shared Capitalism: Co-investigator with Richard Freeman, Joseph Blasi, and Chris Mackin for $650,000 grant from Russell Sage Foundation and Rockefeller Foundation, September 2000-December 2006. We did case studies of 14 U.S. companies with various forms of employee ownership, stock options, and profit sharing, with surveys from 41,000 employees. For nationally-representative data, we sponsored questions on the 2002 and 2006 General Social Surveys regarding attitudes toward and experience with employee ownership and profit sharing. Results will form the basis of a conference, several articles, and a book.

Design of Disability Questions for Current Population Survey: Principal investigator for $102,500 grant from Presidential Task Force on Employment of Adults with Disabilities, August 2001-December 2002. I worked with the Bureau of Labor Statistics, under a Presidential Executive Order, to design disability questions for the monthly population survey of the federal government.

Disability Research Institute: Co-investigator for 5-year cooperative agreement with Social Security Administration to do research on employment and disability income among people with disabilities. One project with Lisa Schur, funded by a $54,000 grant, analyzed the prevalence and trends of alternative work arrangements among people with disabilities over the 1992-2000 period, and legal issues facing workers with disabilities in such arrangements.

Empowerment Through Civic Participation: A Study of the Political Behavior of Citizens with Disabilities: Co-investigator for $102,500 in grants from the New Jersey Developmental Disabilities Council, National Institute on Disability and Rehabilitation Research, Presidential Task Force on Employment of Adults with Disabilities, and Rutgers School of Management and Labor Relations for national surveys following the November 1998 and 2000 elections. The 2000 survey had 1000 respondents and the 1998 survey had 1240 respondents, with 500 respondents with disabilities in 2000 and 700 respondents with disabilities in 1998. The project, done with collaborators Lisa Schur (Rutgers), Kay Schriener, and Todd Shields (U. of Arkansas), compared people with and without disabilities in levels and determinants of voter turnout and other forms of political participation.

Survival and Growth of Private ESOP Firms: Co-investigator with Joseph Blasi for $20,000 grant from ESOP Foundation, National Center for Employee Ownership, and Foundation for Enterprise Development, May, 2000-December, 2000. This project uses 1983-99 longitudinal Dun & Bradstreet data for 3010 firms to investigate the relative survival and growth patterns of ESOP vs. non-ESOP firms.

Disability and Employment: Principal investigator for $25,000 grant from U.S. Department of Labor, 1997. I analyzed Survey of Income and Program Participation dataset to construct baseline information for evaluating likely impacts of policy proposals to encourage employment among people with disabilities. The report provides portraits of employed and non-employed people with disabilities, and comparisons to the general population, with respect to demographic characteristics, personal and household income sources and amounts, health care insurance and utilization, and employment characteristics of the employed.

Disability, Employment, and Computer Use: Co-investigator, with Alan Krueger of Princeton University, for $100,000 grant from Rutgers Disability Research Consortium and Princeton Industrial Relations Section. We analyzed employment patterns among mobility-impaired individuals, and the extent to which computer technologies have affected the employability and earnings power of such individuals.

ESOPs, Profit Sharing, and Gainsharing in Airlines and High-Technology Industries: Co-investigator, with Linda Bell of Haverford College, for $25,000 grant from U.S. Department of Labor to collect and analyze survey data from publicly-held firms in airlines and high-technology industries, 1995.

The Productivity and Stability Theories of Profit Sharing: Principal investigator for $47,000 grant from W.E. Upjohn Institute for Employment Research to study profit sharing in publicly-held companies. Published in Upjohn book in 1993.
