Exams
In-class exams are noncumulative and consist of short-answer questions and brief essays. Exam material will be based on assigned chapters and articles.

Team Paper and Presentation
The purpose of the paper is to enhance students' understanding of economics and demographics and how this understanding can provide insights into the employment relationship through empirical research. Students are to analyze in-depth a randomly given labor demographic trend, e.g., the aging of the workforce, the increased use of a contingent workforce, re-shoring, etc., identify the business implications, and present an HRM solution based on economic theory and supported by research/data.

The paper should be six to eight, double-spaced pages with full citations of all sources.

Each group will present their findings to the class in a PowerPoint presentation. Presentations will be 15 minutes followed by a class questions and answers.
The team project grade will be based on the following rubric:

I. An in-depth analysis of a labor demographic trend
II. Identifying the meaningful business implications
III. Presenting an HRM solution supported by economic theory and research on companies implementing this HRM solution
IV. Properly citing all research sources
V. The overall quality of the PowerPoint presentation

More detailed information on project requirements will be reviewed in class.

Attendance and Participation
Students are expected to attend all classes in full and consistently contribute to class discussions and homework review. Sharing relevant work experience and research is welcome.

Self-Reporting Absence Application
Students are expected to attend all classes; if you expect to miss one or two classes, please use the University absence reporting website https://sims.rutgers.edu/ssra/ to indicate the date and reason for your absence. An email is automatically sent to the instructor.

Academic Integrity
We in the School of Management and Labor Relations take academic integrity very seriously. Violations include: cheating, fabrication, plagiarism, denying others access to information or material, and facilitating violations of academic integrity. Please consult the university’s Academic Integrity Policy summarizes the student’s obligations below.

Special Needs Accommodations
Rutgers University welcomes students with disabilities into all of the University’s educational programs. In order to receive consideration for reasonable accommodations, a student with a disability must contact the appropriate disability services office at the campus where you are officially enrolled, participate in an intake interview, and provide documentation:
https://ods.rutgers.edu/students/documentation-guidelines.

If the documentation supports your request for reasonable accommodations, your campus’s disability services office will provide you with a Letter of Accommodations. Please share this letter with your instructors and discuss the accommodations with them as early in your courses as possible. To begin this process, please complete the Registration form (https://webapps.rutgers.edu/student-ods/forms/registration).
