Summer 2023
[Syllabus as of May 19, 2023]

“Innovation distinguishes between a leader and a follower.” -- Steve Jobs

“Today, no leader can afford to be indifferent to the challenge of engaging employees in the work of creating the future. Engagement may have been optional in the past, but it's pretty much the whole game today.” – Gary Hamel

“If you look at history, innovation doesn't come just from giving people incentives; it comes from creating environments where their ideas can connect.” -- Steven Johnson

“HR professionals drive business performance when they are HR innovators.” – Dave Ulrich

Course Overview

In many fields of endeavor practitioners can point to innovation and new technology as the drivers for great new accomplishments. What will be the new “technologies” of Human Resources Management? What innovations in this field will be so new, so fundamentally different, that business leaders will be inclined to say, “this changes everything!”? This course will focus on fundamental innovation in Human Resources Management and in general management, in response to the rapidly changing external environment. We will focus on new ideas, processes, and programs. Not on new ways to deliver the same old ideas. This course will also consider innovative ways of thinking about business challenges. To develop innovations in human resources management, we may well need to expand the way we think. This course will certainly not provide all the answers. But it is critically important to think about the future and to raise the questions. The HR field has focused a lot on best practices, but has it really strived for innovation? Best practices can only advance your organization to the point of “best already in use.” That is just the starting point for trying to find competitive advantage.

Course Learning Objectives

The course is structured to spend time on change and innovation in each of the major HR functions: Organization Design, Recruiting, Learning and Leadership Development,

In the class sessions we will:

- Envision how changes in the external environment (i.e., business / professional environment, economic, social, etc.) will bear upon that particular HR function.
- Review and analyze case examples of work from HR and general management innovation leaders.
- Building on the material in bullets #1 and 2, explore where innovation is possible in HR, and what it could look like.
- Explore new ways of thinking about business challenges and innovation.
- Spend time working on a final project for the course which will focus on a case study on, and proposal for, HR and people management innovation.

My aim is to really change your thinking about how HR can address the challenges of the future in innovative ways. It is my hope that through this course I will be able to change your viewpoint. I want to shift your orientation to move beyond “best practices” towards true innovation and new “technologies” for Human Resources Management.

SMLR / MHRM Learning Objectives

This course reinforces the following SMLR/MHRM Learning Objectives:

Cognitive Skills and Processes

The cognitive skills and process area reflects the goal for SMLR programs to help students develop skills central to lifelong learning and participation in society and the workplace.

I) Written & Oral Communication – Communicate effectively at a level and in modes appropriate to an entry level professional.
   - Communicate complex ideas effectively, in standard written English
   - Analyze and synthesize information and ideas from multiple sources to generate new insights
   - Produce quality research papers with proper convention of attribution/citation
   - Produce high quality executive summaries
   - Make an argument using contemporary and/or historical evidence
   - Present ideas and arguments in a logical and effective way

II) Quantitative Skills – Apply appropriate quantitative and qualitative methods for research workplace issues.
   - Formulate, evaluate, and communicate conclusions and inferences from quantitative information
   - Apply quantitative methods to analyze data for HR decision making including cost-benefit analyses, ROI, etc. (HRM)
   - Apply qualitative methods appropriately, alone and in combination with quantitative methods

III) Research Skills – Demonstrate an ability to collect, analyze and synthesize information to make logical and informed decisions impacting the workplace. Use evidence to evaluate hypotheses, theories and approaches to workplace issues.
o Employ current technologies to access information, to conduct research, and to communicate findings
o Analyze and synthesize information and ideas from multiple sources to generate new insights
o Assess and critique relevant evidence and research findings
o Access high-quality historical, qualitative, and quantitative evidence or research
o Use evidence-based analysis to appraise the validity of various hypotheses, theories, and approaches to workplace issues

Knowledge of Theory, Practice and Application
The knowledge of theory and application area reflects the goal for SMLR programs to ensure that students learn the key theoretical and foundation areas of study in their domains and realize opportunities to apply that knowledge to practice situations.

IV) Theoretical Perspectives - Demonstrate an understanding of relevant theories and apply them given the background context of a particular work situation.
   o Demonstrate an understanding of the practical perspectives, theories and concepts in their field of study
   o Evaluate and apply theories from social science disciplines to workplace issues

V) Understanding Context - Evaluate the context of workplace issues, public policies, and management decisions
   o Analyze the degree to which forms of human difference shape a person’s experience of and perspectives on work o Analyze a contemporary global issue in their field from a multi-disciplinary and intersectional perspective
   o Analyze issues related to business strategies, organizational structures, and work systems
   o Analyze issues of social justice related to work across local and global contexts (LSER)
   o Analyze issues related to the selection, motivation, and development of talent in a local and global context (HRM)

VI) Application – Demonstrate an understanding of how to apply knowledge necessary for effective work performance
   o Apply concepts and substantive institutional knowledge, to understanding contemporary developments related to work o Understand the legal, regulatory and ethical issues related to their field
   o Develop human resource management functional capabilities used to select, motivate, and develop workers (HRM)
   o Understand the internal and external alignment and measurement of human resource practices (HRM)

Professional Development –
I) Professional Development – Demonstrate an ability to interact with and influence others in a professional manner, and to effectively present ideas and recommendations
   o Develop effective presentation skills appropriate for different settings and audiences

- Develop career management skills to navigate one’s career
- Develop capabilities to work and lead in a multicultural and diverse environment
- Work productively in teams, in social networks, and on an individual basis
- Develop cultural agility competencies
- Demonstrate lifelong personal and professional development skills

Course Projects and Grading

- Analysis projects #1 and #2 (Individual Grade): There are a number of writers / researchers / consultants doing interesting work in this field (innovation and the future of management) that we don’t cover in our basic readings. These projects will provide an opportunity for you to share with us some of the discoveries you make in the course of your additional research. In each analysis each student will report back on one author, providing a brief analytical summary of what that author is doing and thinking, but more importantly providing your critical view of how valuable that work is, what can be used, and where it might lead next. The result of these projects will be a short written paper, approximately 3+ pages, as well as a brief in-class presentation. Project #1 is 20% and Project #2 is 25% of your grade.

- Final Project (Individual Grade): The final project can be based on either a published business case or on a case that you build based on your own interests, knowledge, and experience. The objectives of this project are to a.) Identify some major challenge area(s) for the future of human resource management; b.) Define that challenge also in financial terms; c.) Provide innovative recommendations as to how HR can address those challenges; d.) Discuss how you would measure the cost, benefit, and success of your recommendations; and e.) Explain how you would “sell” those recommendations. The results of this project will be both a written paper (approx. 10 pages) and an in-class presentation. This assignment is 50% of your grade.

- Class Participation: Your colleagues and I really need your participation in class. We will all be working on some future challenges. Please give us the full advantage of your participation and engagement (participation = 5% of your grade)
Grading Scale
90-100 = A
88-89 = B+
80-87 = B
78-79 = C+
70-77 = C
60-69 = F

Reading

Books:

These are recommended books. There is no required book. However, if you decide you really like one or more of these, most are available used on Amazon at very reasonable rates. Let’s discuss books and other resources on day 1 in class.

Articles:

[I have an extensive resource list of articles, blog posts, and other resources, which I will supply separately.]

Course Policies

I hope you will attend every class; that is critical to the success of the course. Please come to class prepared to be an active critical thinker and discussion contributor. If for some reason you are unable to attend a class, please try to inform me prior to class.

All known student disabilities and religious holidays will be accommodated as appropriate. If you need an accommodation, please discuss this with me.

Academic Integrity

I believe strongly in Academic Integrity. You should be familiar with and adhere to the University’s Academic Integrity Policy. Failure to comply with this policy may lead to failure of the course and referral to the Office of Student Conduct.

Rutgers’ policy on Academic Integrity is available here: http://academicintegrity.rutgers.edu/

Communication

We will use Canvas as the primary platform for class content. Please check your Rutgers email and your Canvas messages on a regular basis.
