Description
This course focuses on emotional intelligence (EI) and emotional and social intelligence (ESI) theories in relation to understanding, developing, and leveraging emotional and social intelligence in the workplace. It highlights methods that are used to create positive and productive worksite conditions and support individual employee success. Using strategies presented through both the ability and emotional-social competence models, students are taught leadership skills necessary in today’s diverse organizational environment.

The EIW course is part of the SMLR Diversity and Inclusion Certificate Program.

SMLR Learning Objectives
IV. Theoretical Perspectives - Demonstrate an understanding of relevant theories and apply them given the background context of a particular work situation.
  Identify key theoretical aspects and practical applications of EI abilities and ESI competencies as they relate to the workplace.

VI. Application – Demonstrate an understanding of how to apply knowledge necessary for effective work performance.
  Learn about and engage in assessments and best practices that are regularly applied as an organizational tool in the workplace.

Specific Course Objectives
Course material and assignments provide opportunities to:
• Recognize: the differences in the EI theories that are regularly applied in workplace initiatives.

• Understand: the basic definitions, concerns and misunderstandings associated with emotional intelligence (EI) emotional-social intelligence (ESI); how emotions work to influence thought and behavior; and how EI and ESI is learned and developed

• Identify: research based benefits of developing and leveraging EI/ESI in the workplace for the employee and the organization; training initiatives used to support development and use of employee EI/ESI.
• Learn About and Engage In: assessments that are regularly applied as an organizational tool to identify the EI abilities and ES competencies of employees and leaders.

• Learn: best practices in developing/leveraging EI abilities: awareness of self and others, using and understanding emotions, and emotional management.

• Gain: ESI skills to strengthen leadership capacity in worksite communication and relationship building.

Course Competencies
At the conclusion of the course it is expected that students will demonstrate knowledge and skills in several core areas. Specifically, students should be able to:

• Identify key theoretical aspects and practical applications of EI abilities and ESI competencies as they relate to the workplace.

• Recognize and leverage one's own EI abilities and ESI competencies in the workplace for professional success and as a potential organizational leader.

• Create an actionable plan to address self and/or assessment identified abilities and competencies that could be improved.

Course Organization
Week 1    Course Orientation
Weeks 2 – 6    Part I: EI Theory & Practice
Week 7    Research Briefing Assignment
Weeks 8 - 11    Part II: Developing & Using EI Abilities and Competencies
Weeks 12 – 14    Part III: EI Leadership at Work

Requirements
The course will include:

Readings
Focusing on EI and ESI, students read textbook chapters, journal articles and reports; watch instructor created videos and interviews with leading EI/ESI theorists; and investigate material available on the Internet.

Required Texts:
Students are required to purchase the following two texts:

These texts can be purchased at a discount from multiple locations as soft back, hard back or ebook. Any version is appropriate.

Students can scroll down via link to find both The Emotionally Intelligent Manager as well as Emotional Intelligence at Work

Excerpts from other texts are available within the course shell, see weekly reading assignments at the end of this syllabus.

Emotional Intelligence/ Emotional and Social Intelligence Assessments

Students are required to engage in a formal EI evaluation using the MSCEIT. If desired, students are also allowed to be evaluated by the ESCI.

- MSCEIT (Mayer-Salovey-Caruso Emotional Intelligence Test)
- ESCI (Emotional Social Competency Inventory)

The MSCEIT is an EI ability test that is taken in one sitting online.

The ESCI is an online competency test that involves two stages. First the student takes the online assessment. Next selected workplace representatives engage in a 360 evaluation. The ESCI scores involve not only the student’s self rating but also the evaluation by personnel at their workplace. Choosing the ESCI requires students to choose and engage at least 2 co-workers and/or supervisors in the evaluation process.

Assignments

Students are required to complete the following:

- Writing Assignments (550 points - 55% of final grade)
  Following writing assignment templates and instructions each student completes and submits the following:

  #1 EI Theory and Assessments (135 points – due week 5)
  - Section I: Completion of and Reflection on EI Assessment: Students complete, examine and discuss the process of assessment; MSCEIT (and if selected, the ESCI 360); and 2 self-reports
  - Students apply knowledge gained in unit I when developing written responses to questions posed regarding the benefits of their EI strengths and the potential options for EI skill development.
  - Section II: EI Models and Assessments: Using knowledge of the EI assessments regularly used in the workplace, students discuss the differences between the assessments and the theoretical models that support the assessments.

- #2 EI Research Briefing (150 points – due week 7)
Using a list of recommended research articles on a variety of aspects of EI theory and practice as well as locating research articles online through the Rutgers Library system, students choose 2 research articles to discuss: topic being investigated, results of the research, and the potential for use of findings in the workplace.

#3 Awareness and Management of Emotions Exercises (115 points – due week 10)

Section I: Self-Awareness: students to keep a diary for a minimum of 5 days and reflect on thoughts/behaviors associated with emotions experienced during diary keeping period.

Connect reflections on activity noted above to awareness of emotions course content.

Section II: Managing Emotions: Conditioned Relaxation Response

Involves experimentation with conditioned relaxation techniques to gain more control of emotions. Students keep a diary that documents experimentation with the technique.

Students identify and discuss their knowledge of key concepts; present strategies of importance as strategies are associated with student’s developmental needs.

#4 Readiness for Change and EI Plan (150 points – due week 13)

Section I: Self Directed Learning Readiness and Change

Students provide written responses to 4 of the 9 questions posed within the appropriate section of the chapter titled “How and Why Individuals are able to Develop Emotional Intelligence.” (Challenges and Paths to Your Readiness to Change); discuss understanding of key concepts presented in document.

Section II: Plan for Change

Reflecting on abilities and competencies identified through the assessment process (Writing Assignment #1: EI Assessment Reflection) and material discussed throughout the semester, students develop and substantiate a basic plan for: developing/strengthening needed EI skills/competencies; leveraging high quality skills/competencies that already exist.

- Forums (worth a total of 300 points; 30% of final grade)

  There are 8 forums in the course. Students must engage in 6 of the forums. A minimum of 3 comments are required. Forums open Thursday mornings; 1st Comment by Saturdays, 11:59 pm; Forums close Tuesdays 11:59 pm. Forums are “post first.” Students cannot see other learning community comments until they offer an original comment.

  About participating in more than 6 regular forums: There are a total of 8 regular forums. Students are required to engage in 6 of the 8 regular forums. Students are welcome to engage in more than the 6 required forums. However, when students choose to participate in more than 6 regular forums, their work will be graded as if it was a regular forum. Points will be added, but these points will not be extra credit. The highest 6 forum scores will be chosen at the end of the semester and the other 1 or 2 forum scores will be deleted.

  Why Are Forums Important?

  1) Forums require engagement in course material. A more engaged student will retain information and also make meaning out of the material being investigated.

  2) Students can communicate their insights and thoughts pertaining to a particular topic, as well as learn from one another in the process.

  3) The content of what a student chooses to share within a forum is a means for the instructor to identify whether or not a student comprehends required reading and /video assignments.

- Test Yourself Quizzes (4 worth 150 points – 15% of final grade)
  Each quiz is worth between 30 – 40 points each

  The purpose for the quizzes is to help students recognize the amount of knowledge/skills they have gained from reading/watching course materials through a low point bearing/lower stress producing activity. In addition, students should use the “Test Yourself” quizzes as a learning opportunity by checking their answers against correct answers. Students can take the quiz up to 2 times. The last score will be kept. Quizzes are open book. Students can review the answers to the questions after the quiz close date.

  Quizzes are true/false, multiple choice, and multiple answer.

  Quizzes open Fridays and close 11:59 pm Tuesday nights. Questions are random and are taken from a bank of questions. Quizzes remain open for 1 hour; plenty of time to answer questions.

Policies and Procedures

The course begins Wednesday, January 17. Last assignment will be submitted on Monday, April 30. This is an asynchronous course.

Wednesdays are the beginning of each course week. A weekly message is provided within an announcement that becomes available Wednesday mornings by 10 am Eastern Time. Reading weekly messages is a required activity. Students are responsible for the contents of weekly messages. Messages present timely information on course activities/assignments and content.

Message Checking Policies

Messages Sent to Professor’s Canvas Inbox

Unless students receive advance notification, the professor will check her Canvas Inbox by 10:00 am ET on regular workdays. (This excludes Sundays and Spring Break.) If a student sends a comment or question, the professor will address the contents of the message within 24 hours.

Messages Sent to Student Canvas Inbox

Things happen. When you don’t have to attend a class session in person, it’s easy to let a situation in your personal or professional life get in the way of online course work. In addition, remember the first rule in computer use – the computer or Internet connection will act up at the most critical time. Because “things happen” it’s a best practice not to wait until the last minute to make a comment in a forum, upload a writing assignment or complete a Test yourself Quiz.
It is the responsibility of the student to regularly check for incoming course messages. Messages are always sent through the Canvas messaging system. Students will receive a notification when a new message has been sent to his/her Canvas inbox. Forgetting or being unable to check for messages in one’s Canvas inbox is not an excuse.

It is the student’s responsibility to recognize open, close, first comment and due dates for assignments/assessments. Use the course calendar to identify all assignment due dates and graded assignment return dates. An online version of the calendar is available through clicking on the Calendar tab in the navigation bar (red area to the left of the screen in the course shell.) A hard copy of the calendar is available under the Course Essentials module.

The Course Project requires the completion of the Meyer-Salovey-Caruso Emotional Intelligence Test (MSCEIT) competed between established open period dates. When a student neglects to complete the MSCEIT assessment, he/she cannot complete Writing Assignment 1 and components of Writing Assignment 4. If a student doesn’t take the MSCEIT, he/she will earn no points in areas where writing assignments required MSCEIT test results.

Late Submission Policy – Course Project and Writing Assignments

Writing assignments are accepted up to 24 hours (12:01 am to 11:59 pm Wednesdays) from the due date for a deduction of 10% of the points attributed to the assignment. (This is a deduction of one letter grade.) Writing assignments will not be accepted after the 24-hour period.

Forums occur specifically between published open and close dates. Engagement in forums can’t be made up. First comment deadlines are firm. No acceptations.

Test Yourself quizzes are available to complete between specific open and close dates. Quizzes can’t be made up. No acceptations.

Extra Credit

Extra credit options are described below. These options are available to all students. Up to 40 points extra credit can be earned. No other extra credit is available at any other time – or - for individual students.

- Students earn 5 extra credit points by attending to Canvas account related activities: uploading a digital photo, offering a short bio, checking if email address in settings area is appropriate for receiving notifications.
- Students can earn 5 extra credit points by completing an extra assignment associated with Writing Assignment #3 (self-awareness journal keeping).
- Students who volunteer to share their MSCEIT and/or ESCI 360 feedback report will earn 10 extra credit points.
- Students who volunteer to also take the ESCI 360 assessment (involves assessment from at least 3 coworkers) will earn 5 extra credit points.
- Students who choose to engage in an extra credit forum on use of training to increase emotional intelligence in the workplace can earn up to 15 extra credit points in association with grading rubrics for all other forums.

Grading

A final grade is based on the point system. Number of points for each course assignment/quiz is detailed within an overview of each assignment/quiz. Highest number of points a student can earn over the course of the semester is 1,000. Points accumulate to determine final percentage grade (percent of 1,000 points.)
Outstanding  Very Good  Good  Satisfactory  Poor
100 – 90% = A  89 – 87% = B+  86 – 80% = B  79 – 77 Points = C+  66 – 60 = D; 59% = F

Comprehensive information about grading, including rubrics for each assignment, is available in the course shell.

Course Expectations

Self-Empowerment

Use of Technical Tools & Problem Solving

It is each student’s responsibility to learn to maneuver around the course and use course tools. Each student has a wealth of information and support to achieve this goal.

Student Resources

- Use a “can do” attitude when getting acclimated to the online learning venue. Attitude about achieving success or solving problems is a key resource.

Resources Available in Course:

Refer to the Course Tools page under the Course Home module for written information on commonly used course tools. Course Tools page offers written instructions on:

- Updating Your Profile Information
- Watching Online Videos
- Assignment Submission Instructions
- Discussion Instructions
- Technical Requirements

- A “Help tab” can be accessed through the navigation bar the left of the screen in the course shell.

Resources Available Outside the Course:

- Access to the Canvas help desk by using the phone and email information provided on the 1st page of the syllabus as well as the course home page.

Embrace the Opportunities of Online Learning

Online courses are different than on-the-ground courses. Beyond enjoying the convenience in not having to commute to class, choose to become empowered by the other benefits of online learning.

Well designed and facilitated, online courses:
- feature learner-centered/self-directed learning. Self-directed learning requires more involvement from the student. More involvement with course materials increases the likelihood of retention.
- are assignment based. This difference requires students to continually do something with the topics being addressed in a course. Students are engaged to make a strong connection with the material.
- expand resources for study beyond the resources in the course shell. Students are encouraged to explore a wide variety of Internet based sources of information that addresses course topics.

- foster student-to-student interaction and support opportunities that can serve as high quality learning opportunities from peers.

- offer time for students to consider concepts and skills being addressed beyond the period one would be present in an on-the-ground classroom.

- support one-on-one learning through ongoing interaction with the instructor. Your instructor is readily available to answer questions and/or discuss course content and assignments.

Assist in Creating and Fostering an Online Community of Learners

Online learning communities are an important part and a benefit of an online course. Interacting with peers increases a sense of connection and belonging. Interaction during the semester reminds students that they are part of a larger group of individuals who are engaged in the same learning experience.

Beyond basic interaction, the development of a community of learners offers students the opportunity to collaborate. Students work together and assist one another while focusing on a common goal – successfully gaining knowledge and skills associated with course topics.

The responsibility of creating an online learning community is shared between the instructor and the student. The instructor develops a course format, activities, and policies that offer the possibility of a community. However, student involvement within their community is a critical component to the community’s success.

When participating in this course it is an expectation that students will:

- Communicate clearly, authentically, and maintain a content-oriented focus when making comments.

- Intellectually challenge peers to consider a topic by offering well developed comments that invite peers to share their reflections on course material.

- Maintain a positive and respectful attitude when interacting with peers. “flaming” – where students focus on demeaning a peer instead of constructively offering a differing opinion when there is a disagreement - has point deducting consequences.

Recognize Best Practices and Use Them to Achieve Success

Students are offered specific directions on how to complete each assignment within the course shell. Students should refer to assignment pages to understand how to complete assignments. In addition, specific grading rubrics are linked to each assignment oriented page so that students understand exactly how each assignment will be assessed. It is expected that students will be attentive to directions and the grading criteria for assignments. Paying attention is in the student’s best interest.
