Course Information

This course is designed to provide an overview of the dynamics of gender at work. Under the umbrella of work this course includes organizational theory, embodied labor and issues around work and family, occupational stratification, the gender pay gap, women in low wage work, theories of gender and work.

Course content

This course will: (1) give students an overview of women’s labor force participation, the wage gap, and theories of gender at work, (2) make students aware of the influence of gender and (to some degree) race, class, and sexuality in structuring opportunities to work and the rewards of work, (3) help students to become critical consumers of popular and academic sources about work, and to apply these abilities in written assignments, and (4) develop students’ abilities to carry out and present research on issues relevant to work.

Course Requirements

Class Participation: 20%

Class participation means you have done the assigned reading thoroughly, post on the class discussion board, or come to each discussion session prepared with for the discussion. Our classroom sessions rely heavily on what you and your peers contribute to the discussion, not only from our readings but from personal experiences and distinct backgrounds. I expect all students to engage in class discussion in a thoughtful and respectful manner. If you are struggling with participating in discussions, you should e-mail me or see me during office hours.

Work Autobiography and Critical Reflection Papers: 35%

There are 12 weeks with required readings to be done before class. You must prepare a critical reflection paper, approximately 2 pages each, at the beginning of class for 4 out of our 12 sessions. Your reflection papers should not merely summarize the readings; rather, they should offer a critical assessment of, and engagement with, ideas or issues in the readings. Guidelines for preparing reflection papers will be posted on the class Canvas site and will be distributed during the first week of class.

Gender and Occupation Assignment: 45%

Your gender and occupation project is central to the goal of this course. This project requires you to collect data about an occupation, observe a workplace, and conduct an interview with a worker to critically analyze gender in that occupation. This project, worth 40% of your total grade, will be broken into three parts.

Occupational Data Paper and Presentation: 10%
Work Observation Paper: 10%
Interview Paper and Presentation: 25%

Your writing for all assignments will be assessed on the content of your arguments, your use of assigned materials, and how effectively you express your ideas in writing. For each day late, the grade on the paper will be lowered by one letter grade.

Student Resources

Academic Integrity

You will be held to the Rutgers Policy on Academic Integrity, which can be found online at http://academicintegrity.rutgers.edu/. If you have any questions regarding plagiarism or related topics please ask. Cheating, fabrication, facilitating academic dishonesty, or plagiarism will be reported. Depending on the individual case, you might fail the assignment or the class, be required to take an ethics seminar, be placed on disciplinary probation, or be suspended from Rutgers for a semester or more.

Disability Services

(848) 445-6800 / Lucy Stone Hall, Suite A145, Livingston Campus, 54 Joyce Kilmer Avenue, Piscataway, NJ 08854 / https://ods.rutgers.edu/
Rutgers University welcomes students with disabilities into all of the University's educational programs. In order to receive consideration for reasonable accommodations, a student with a disability must contact the appropriate disability services office at the campus where you are officially enrolled, participate in an intake interview, and provide documentation: https://ods.rutgers.edu/students/documentation-guidelines. If the documentation supports your request for reasonable accommodations, your campus’s disability services office will provide you with a Letter of Accommodations. Please share this letter with your instructors and discuss the accommodations with them as early in your courses as possible. To begin this process, please complete the Registration form on the ODS web site at: https://ods.rutgers.edu/students/registration-form.

Attendance Policy

You should attend all class meetings; if you have an emergency and must miss a class meeting, please use the University self-reporting absence website https://sims.rutgers.edu/ssra/ to indicate the date and reason for your absence. An email with this information will be sent to your instructor. Please note: reporting an absence is not the same as an excused absence. Recordings of class meetings will be posted via Canvas on Thursdays following each Wednesday meeting.

A rubric will be posted on Canvas by the first day of class explaining how class participation is evaluated.

Guidelines for Class Technology

The course delivery mode is remote synchronous; meaning that the learning activities take place online (virtually) but there will be live/synchronous sessions each class.

We will be utilizing this Canvas learning management system to access learning materials, post announcements, submit Assignments, post to Discussion Forums, communicate via the Inbox feature, and attend live sessions through Zoom. Be sure to check this site frequently as there will be announcements and instructions.

Note: whenever anything is posted to Canvas, you will automatically receive a notification to your rutgers.edu email account. Checking that email account frequently is highly recommended.
