Course Description: This course examines labor relations and collective bargaining using three major processes: union organizing (how unions are formed), bargaining (how contracts are developed), and dispute resolution (how bargaining disputes and grievances are resolved). To facilitate the learning experience, the class will combine small group and class discussions, lectures and exercises. Additionally, students will participate in a mock contract negotiation.

Course Objective: After successfully completing this course, you will be able to:
- Identify and explain key terms and various concepts, tools, and techniques relating to the negotiation process to include interest based and positional negotiations.
- Understand and be able to apply a framework for analyzing collective bargaining and negotiations.
- Explain the role and function of management and union strategies and structures for bargaining.
- Distinguish and discuss the various factors affecting labor law and history.
- Understand and become familiar with contract administration and dispute resolution processes.
- Analyze and relate various important issues regarding unions in the past, present and future.

Readings: We will read excerpts from several books, including:

- John W. Budd Labor Relations: Striking a Balance (6th edition), abbreviated as “Budd”

The readings must be done prior to class.

Violations of academic integrity policies, including cheating, will result in penalties up and including a 0 for the semester. If an issue arises throughout the course which prevents you from attending class or keeping up with the assignments, I need to be notified. Every effort will be made to accommodate. However, you must be proactive and not wait until you are poorly performing.

REQUIRED Bargaining Exercise: A synchronous collective bargaining simulation in which small groups of union and management teams negotiate the terms of a new collective bargaining agreement. Teams for this exercise will be assigned by Professor Castella. You will be required to have headphones with a microphone to participate in this exercise. Teams for this exercise will be assigned by myself.

Before the initial bargaining session, each team will construct a negotiation plan. Each negotiation plan should include a bargaining strategy and agenda that contains the team’s threat point (i.e., the minimum [maximum] acceptable contract changes the union [company] would accept without a strike) and also what the team reasonably hopes to settle for. Both economic and noneconomic items should be included. Blank templates are available on the exercise’s website. Costs must be estimated and set out for the economic items in the packages. Bargaining agendas are not binding during negotiations but are used to facilitate preparation. To help with costing various proposals, an Excel spreadsheet is available on the website. Every team member should lead the team on at least one individual issue. Potential issues include wages, health insurance, retirement, notice procedures, successorship, and others. Any pair of teams that do not complete an agreement by the end of the negotiations period will be deemed to be on strike and must write a strike paper. A full schedule and discussion regarding the process we will use for this simulation will be provided at a later date.
Final grades are based on the following:
