Course Syllabus

Draft subject to change- Updated January 23, 2023

Schedule: The weeks in the course begin on Monday and end on Sunday evening at 11:59 p.m. You often will have things due on either Thursday evening or Sunday evening, just like any course that meets twice a week. The schedule and the assignments are subject to change.

This is an online course that is largely asynchronous. However, in this section, you will then have a CHOICE as to do one of two things:

1) A synchronous (live at a particular time) team-based collective bargaining exercise that requires planning with the team and then bargaining with the opposing union or management team online. I highly recommend this option. But if your internet connection is not fast and reliable or if you live in a different time zone, this probably won’t work out well. You must have a strong internet connection and a good personal computer with a microphone and camera to bargain online – a cell phone, Chromebook, or working in a student computing center won’t be sufficient. See Appendix “A” (Below) for the dates.

2) An individual paper of about five pages involving visiting one of a number of labor-related museums (see Appendix “B” below). A paper might be a better choice if your life makes a group activity difficult or if you do not have a strong internet connection.
Learning Objectives for this course follow. The student is able to:

Core Curriculum: SCL

- Understand different theories about human culture, social identity, economic entities, political systems and other forms of social organization. (Goal SCL-1).

School of Management and Labor Relations:

- Demonstrate an understanding of relevant theories and apply them given the background context of a particular work situation. (Goal IV)
- Demonstrate an understanding of how to apply knowledge necessary for effective work performance. (Goal VI)

Labor Studies and Employment Relations Department:

- Demonstrate an understanding of the perspectives, theories and concepts in the field of labor and employment relations. (Goal 1).
- Apply those concepts, and substantive institutional knowledge, to understanding contemporary developments related to work. (Goal 2).

Additional course objective from the instructors:

- Students will be able to apply facts and concepts from the course to argue convincingly against common contemporary fallacies related to employment relations.

Grades:

For purposes of grading, there are multiple components of the course:

- Introductory exercises (Personal information/choice of exercise; pre-test participation) (3%)
- Threaded Discussions (Forums) (40%)
- Rights check and union knowledge check at 1% each (2%)
- Bargaining exercise or museum paper (10%)
- 3 Quizzes at 12% each (36%)
- Short take-home final (9%)

Text: Stephen Sweet and Peter Meiksins. Changing Contours of Work: Jobs and Opportunities in the New Economy. 4th Edition. Sage, 2021. (Please note: the second and third editions are similar to the 4th; although latter editions are more up to date. The first is very different – do not use it).
Unit I. The Situation Working People Face Today (Jan 17 – Feb. 19)

Week 1: Introduction (Jan. 17-22)

- Explore what the course is about and make note of what is required of you.
- Post information about whether/when you will do the bargaining exercise or the paper (worth 2% of your grade –less if you are late)
- Take the Pre-test. Your score does not affect your grade, but it is important to be sure how your computer will interact with the exam software to prevent later problems. (Worth 2% of your grade). So please use the computer you will later use to take quizzes.
- Buy or rent the text

Appendix “B”
Labor-related Museum Visit and Paper.

• Visit one of the following locations listed below. Take a picture of yourself at the location or scanned program from the location to document you were physically there. You will upload this separately.

• Write a five-page (double-spaced) paper in which you describe your experience and the content of the museum exhibit. In your essay, address some of the following questions:

  Why did you choose to visit that place?
  What did you learn from your visit?
  What did you like most about the museum?
  What did you like most about the exhibits? What would you have changed if you could?
  How is the location connected to the course or a specific part of the course?
  How did your knowledge and background of labor studies change the lens in which you viewed the exhibits?
  What readings from this course were helpful for viewing and understanding the exhibits?
  Would you recommend visiting to other students in the class? Why or why not?
  Please feel free to comment on other aspects of the visit that may not be addressed in the above questions.

Locations to visit (choose any one):

1. The Tenement Museum in NYC. Go to http://www.tenement.org/(Links to an external site.) for information. There are a variety of tours and you may need to sign up in advance.

2. The American Labor Museum at the Botto House in Patterson, NJ. Go to http://www.labormuseum.net/(Links to an external site.) for information. There are also good walking tours in Patterson.

4. Roebling Museum in Burlington County -- http://roeblingmuseum.org/(Links to an external site.) If you go to this one be sure to also investigate the big strikes that occurred in this company town.

5. Seabrook Museum -- in far South Jersey near Vineland - http://www.seabrookeducation.org/(Links to an external site.)
The history of Seabrook includes a united black/white Communist-influenced 1934 strike, battles with the Klan, the owner’s use of every group possible to keep down labor costs (Japanese internees, Estonian refugees, German POWs, etc.).

6. Philadelphia History Museum (formerly the Atwater-Kent) in downtown Philly - http://www.philadelphiahistory.org -- A general history museum, but includes ethnic and worker-related exhibits. They have a lot of the material objects (most not displayed) from the late great Balch Ethnic Institute and some suggested walking tours of city neighborhoods. Visit a part of the museum related to labor studies. (This museum may be closed... see #8 and #9 for other museums close to Philadelphia).

7. Nearer to the Lehigh Valley Area, Pennsylvania, the Bethlehem Steel Stacks, in Pennsylvania, runs tours. If you do this one, also investigate the history of the union there. Go to http://www.historicbethlehem.org for information.

8. Camden Shipyard Maritime Museum is more promising: https://www.camdenshipyardmuseum.org/exhibits. The Camden museum seems to have limited hours, but it should be open (it is a relatively new museum): https://www.camdenshipyardmuseum.org/exhibits.

9. https://www.aampmuseum.org/current-exhibitions.html The African American Museum in Philadelphia also has a permanent exhibit on African Americans in Philadelphia from 1776-1876, which would of course touch on the themes of race, civil rights, and social class.
