REQUIRED TEXTBOOK

Compensation: by Barry Gerhart (14th edition)
ISBN: 978-1-264-08090-8

METHOD OF INSTRUCTION: This is an asynchronous online course delivered via the Canvas Learning Management System. To access Canvas, you must use your netID and password. All course announcements are posted to Canvas, and sent to your Rutgers email address, so you should be sure to regularly check this email address. It is an asynchronous course, which means that all of the course activities occur at your convenience (based on the deadlines given each week), and there are no required meeting times. However, there will be opportunities for a virtual office hour or live chat session to address course questions.

Online courses require discipline, dedication and excellent time management skills. As a student in this course, I expect that you will:

- Read the assigned textbook chapters and watch the lecture videos early during each week. Doing so allows you to be an active informed participant during the discussion forum for each week.
- Check Canvas often, as in, every day!
- All course material is subject to assessment, even if it was not covered during the lecture video. Your success is directly related to your individual efforts in this course.

TECHNOLOGY REQUIREMENTS: You will need a reliable stable Internet connection, as well as a reliable computer, whether a desktop, laptop or tablet. Preferred operating system of Windows 07 or above or Mac OS X 10.7 or above to use the MyLab platform for quizzes and assignments. It is a good idea to figure out an alternative option should your current machine fail you. That is, do you have another computer at home or at work, can you access your local library or even on your Internet-enabled mobile device?

ASSIGNMENTS: Throughout the semester, you will be assigned exercises to solidify the course concepts through quantitative problem solving and open-ended questions.

DISCUSSION FORUMS: Each discussion forum will have questions related to that week's lecture topic, notes, and/or reading. You are required to provide at least one original response to the Instructor's post by Thursday night and two original responses to your classmates' posts by Sunday night. You are expected to follow the discussion forum expectations for a successful and inclusive course experience.

Discussion Forum Expectations: As a class, we have entered into an academic contract, and as such, students are expected to practice professionalism at all times. It is expected that you will be respectful and courteous to your colleagues throughout all of your interactions. Inappropriate behavior, offensive language, harassment, or posting of any media that could be considered offensive is prohibited and will not be tolerated in this course. Here are some useful Guidelines for communicating in this course:

- Timeliness is important: a good discussion entails keeping the dialogue going (throughout the given week) with your colleagues. To facilitate the dialogue, it is critical you adhere to the Discussion post due dates, so you have sufficient time to respond to each other's posts. Please do not wait until the last day to post your responses.
- Be courteous: use appropriate language. Do not use offensive language. Be mindful of your tone. Use humor cautiously, as everyone may not share your sense of humor. In general, don't be a jerk!
- Respect others: if you do not agree with someone's point of view, explain your view and your reason for not agreeing in a respectful manner. Using ALL CAPS, for example, may indicate anger or frustration. If you want to emphasize your point, you can italicize or bold your font.
- Show a scholarly attitude: refrain from responding with just "I agree" or "I don't agree". Be sure to support your reasoning in a well-written response, provide appropriate references and analysis.
- Stay on topic: focus on the question asked in the discussion forum.
- Adhere to deadlines: submit your post by the specified due date. This ensures that everyone has a chance to view/read and respond to the posts.
- Beware of the credibility of your resources: when you post articles or other resources make sure the articles are relevant to the topic and come from a credible source.
- Give proper credit: if you are making references to other's work (articles, papers), be sure to acknowledge the author(s) and properly cite and reference the resource.
- Avoid spamming: do not post resources that you suspect may be spam.

- For private matters use email: if you need to discuss a private matter with the professor, teaching aide or with other students in the class, do so through your Rutgers email or the Canvas Inbox feature. Do not post discussions of a personal matter to the discussion board.
- Use your Rutgers email address: for communicating coursework or any other activities related to your course, please use your Rutgers email address. This minimizes the risk of hacking and spam related interruptions to your email.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY: Academic dishonesty is harmful to students, faculty, the university and society. Academic dishonesty includes any unauthorized collaboration or misrepresentation in the submission of academic work. In all written work, the student’s name on the work is considered a statement that the work is theirs alone, except as otherwise indicated. Students are expected to provide proper citations for the statements and ideas of others whether submitted word for word or paraphrased. Failure to provide proper citations is considered plagiarism and offenders will be subject to the charge of plagiarism. Work submitted by students on quizzes, assignments, and examinations should be an honest representation of that student’s effort and should not involve unauthorized collaboration, unauthorized use of notes, or unauthorized access to prior information about the assessment. All members of a team are responsible for the academic integrity of their submissions. To be clear, any submission with your name on it should meet the integrity standards of the HRM Department, the School of Management and Labor Relations, and Rutgers University. All incidents of academic dishonesty are reported to the HRM Undergraduate Program, the SMLR Academic Integrity Facilitator, as well as the Rutgers University Office of Student Conduct.

All students must read and affirm that they agree with the terms of the Academic Integrity Contract and complete the related Academic Integrity Assignment on Canvas.

Resources for Students

COURSE QUESTIONS: Should you have any administrative questions about exams, quizzes, due dates, attendance etc., please take the following steps: 1) first check the syllabus; 2) next, you can check the Canvas FAQ Forum to see whether others may have had the same question. 3) If your question has not been asked or answered, then you can pose your question in the Canvas FAQ Forum. 4) If you do not receive a response to your question within 24 hours, then you should email your teaching aide.

Should you have any questions about the course assignments, you can also pose your question in the Canvas FAQ Forum. If you do not receive a response to your question within 24 hours, then you should email your teaching aide. Please note that inquiries about a grade on a quiz or an assignment should be submitted to your teaching aide within two weeks. For example, an inquiry about Quiz 2 should not be submitted in Week 12 of the semester, so you should be sure to check your grades on Canvas regularly.

Should you have any questions about the course concepts, you can also pose your question in the Canvas FAQ Forum. If you do not receive a response to your question within 24 hours, then you should send me an email.

When sending an email to the professor or the teaching aide please be sure to title it appropriately as we do receive many emails so clear subject titles help us to sort them accordingly.

Please note that you should check the syllabus and Canvas FAQ Forum before sending an email to the professor. If the answer to your question is contained in one of those sources, this greatly reduces the likelihood of receiving a response to your email. You are welcome to and I encourage you to answer your classmates' questions in the Canvas FAQ Forum!

CHANGES TO THE SYLLABUS: This syllabus is the plan for the course however it is subject to modification at any time throughout the semester. Such changes will be posted in an Announcement on Canvas. You are responsible for abiding by the terms of the syllabus and any changes announced in class.

ACCOMMODATIONS: I am committed to providing a welcoming and accessible classroom for all students. Students who need accommodations due to a disability should provide me with the appropriate documentation from the Office of Disability Services for Students as early in the semester as possible, and definitely before the first exam.

University Statement on Accommodations: "Rutgers University welcomes students with disabilities into all of the University's educational programs. In order to receive consideration for reasonable accommodations, a student with a disability must contact the appropriate disability services office at the campus where you are officially enrolled, participate in an intake interview, and provide documentation: <https://ods.rutgers.edu/students/documentation-guidelines>. If the documentation supports your request for reasonable accommodations, your campus's disability services office will provide you with a Letter of Accommodations. Please share this letter with your instructors and discuss the accommodations with them as early in your courses as possible. To begin this process, please complete the Registration form on the ODS web site at: <https://ods.rutgers.edu/students/registration-form>."

The Office of the Dean of Students: "Our office helps students with exceptional difficulties due to medical, emotional, social, psychological, financial, confidential or family-related issues. We may provide letters to faculty for extended (a week or more) absences or circumstances that are complex, confidential or sensitive in nature. In these instances, the Dean's role is to verify documentation of the student's situation. The final decision is always up to the faculty regarding makeup exams, extensions, or other options." Any student who is dealing with financial challenges that impact their food or housing security, and believes this may affect their performance in the course is urged to contact the Dean of Students office for support, <http://deanofstudents.rutgers.edu/>. You should also notify the professor if you feel comfortable doing so.
