Description

The field of organizational behavior (OB) is about understanding how people and groups in organizations behave, react, and interpret events. It also describes the role of organizational systems, structures, and processes in shaping behavior, and explains how organizations really work. Drawing from fields including management, anthropology, sociology, information technology, ethics, economics, and psychology, OB provides a foundation for the effective management of people in organizations. Because it explains how organizations work from individual motivation to team dynamics to organizational structure, knowing about OB is essential to being effective at all organizational levels.

Because an organization's people are responsible for gaining and keeping a competitive advantage, understanding how to mobilize and motivate employees is critical to organizational performance. Businesses excel when employees understand how their behaviors influence an organization's performance and enable strategy execution, and when they are led effectively and are motivated to do their best. Competitors can often copy a firm's technologies, products, processes, and structures, but it is difficult to duplicate a core of talented, knowledgeable, motivated employees who work together to achieve the firm's goals and who care about their firm's success. Understanding and practicing OB concepts is critical to understanding organizations and gives individuals, managers, and organizations the skills and tools they need to be effective.

Organizational behavior is also the cornerstone of success for individuals in organizations. Even the most skilled nurse, salesperson, accountant, engineer, or anything else will be ineffective as an employee and as a manager without good OB skills, including interpersonal and communication skills and a solid understanding of managing and motivating individuals and teams.

In order to remain compliant with the federal requirement of student authentication in online courses, you will take your exams in this course using Proctortrack software, a remote proctoring service. In this course, there is NO charge for the use of Proctortrack.

Detailed instructions on how to use Proctortrack are provided under course home. You will be asked in the first two weeks to take an "onboarding" pretest. This quiz will allow you to insure that you do not have problems later when its time to take a graded exam. We recommend you use Mozilla Firefox. You must have a video camera and be able to take the exam in a private space.

Questions and requests for tech support during the authentication and verification process should be addressed by calling \(888\) 326-5219 or by going to www.proctortrack.com. Questions regarding course materials and exam questions should be directed to your instructor.

3. Threaded Discussions (FORUMS) (Worth 30% of final grade)

Two of the forums, the introduction and summary forums, are mandatory. Students must also participate in at least three of the other four forums.(70 pts. Each)

- Introduction Forum: Introduction (Mandatory) –30 pts Week 2
- Forum 1: Individual Differences – Week 3

- Forum 2: Attitudes, Values, Moods, and Emotions – Week 5
- Forum 3: Social Interactions – Week 9
- Forum 4: Managing Conflict and Negotiating – Week 11
- Summary Forum: Synthesizing Material and Processing the Field of OB (Mandatory) 60 pts – Week 14

Forum Requirements, Topics, and Timing within Semester

Six learning community forums are held throughout the semester. If a student chooses to participate in all six forums, the numbered forum with the lowest number of points earned will be dropped.

Students are expected to engage in forum discussions multiple times during a Wednesday –Tuesday course week. Forums open on Wednesdays (12:01 am), first comment dates are on Saturdays (by 11:59 pm), and forums close on Tuesdays (11:59 pm). For more expectations on forum work, refer later in the syllabus.

Policies and Procedures

- The course begins on Tuesday, September 1st, 2015. The last assignment must be submitted by Wednesday, December 9th, 2015.
- Wednesdays are the beginning of each course week. A weekly message will be posted to eCollege every Wednesday by 10 am Eastern Time. Students are responsible for the contents of weekly messages. Messages present timely information on course activities/assignments and content.
- Use the course calendar to identify all assignment due dates and graded assignment return dates. The calendar is available as a link under course home along with the syllabus.
- Students are given ample time to participate in forums. Forum participation cannot be made up.
- The writing assignments will be accepted up to 24 hours late (12:01 am – 11:49 pm) for a 10% penalty.

Recognize “Best Practices,” and use them to achieve success!

General Information on Directions and Assignment Grading

Students are offered specific directions on how to complete each assignment within the course shell as well as within the weekly messages. In addition, specific grading rubrics are published so that students understand exactly how each assignment will be graded. It is expected that students will be attentive to directions and the grading criteria for assignments. Paying attention is in the student’s best interest.

An overview of best practices for the two most point bearing course assignments are provided below. Complete grading rubrics for these and all assignments are available under the link titled “Grading” in the course.

Best Practices in Forum Participation

While forums are designed to be active and expressive, they are not chat rooms. A forum is an established area of the course where peers contribute to the greater understanding or appropriate expansion of course topics. Working together, students create an intriguing, supportive, and useful “community of learners” where peers choose to visit and participate.

Earning the highest number of points in a forum requires following these best practices:

Comment Quality (50% of Points)

At least 2 comments:

- are relevant to the topics addressed in a forum
- exhibit critical thinking and an overall understanding of topic is evident

Participation (40% of points)

- 2 or more comments during each forum open period; 1st comment must be made prior to 11:59 pm Saturday (4 days after forum opens).
- Fosters learning community development through: 1 or more replies acknowledging and then building upon the ideas/thoughts of others. (no echoing)

Context and Expression (10% of Points)

- Comments are presented using appropriate grammar, sentence structure, and spelling.
- Comments are well communicated. It is easy for peers to understand points being made.
- Expression of ideas/thoughts is outstanding.
- Comments are appropriate for an academic forum.

Best Practices in Completing Writing Assignments

There are three sets of criteria on which students are graded. Earning the highest number of points within each section of the writing assignments requires following these best practices:

Content (50% of points)

Content is well developed:

- Content that relates to required/recommended course material is accurate.
- Questions are thoroughly answered and content is appropriate for the topic of inquiry.
- Content that indicates knowledge gained and potential for knowledge/skills to influence future thoughts/behavior is adequately linked to course materials (including any material brought into the course by a student). When required, citations are provided.

Reflection (40% of points)

Outstanding reflective skills:

- Answers indicate a high level of reflection and insight on topic.
- Critical thinking is evident.
- A strong desire to reflect on topics is evident.

Organization & Mechanics (10% of points)

Organization of content and expression of ideas/thoughts is outstanding:

- Writing is fluent and lively.
- All answers are presented in a professional manor: using appropriate grammar, sentence structure, and spelling.
- All ideas/thoughts are well communicated. Answers to all questions are concise/to the point.

- Engages in a high quality Internet search (when applicable).
- Instructions for completing assignment are followed.

Things happen. When you don't have to attend a class session in person, it's easy to let a situation in your personal or professional life get in the way of online course work. In addition, remember the first rule in computer use – the computer or Internet connection will act up at the most critical time. Because “things happen” it's a best practice not to wait until the last minute to take the exam, submit a comment in a forum, or upload a writing assignment.
