Schedule
The weeks in the course begin on Monday (or Tuesday for the 1st week) and end on Sunday evening at 11 p.m. (or Wed. in the final week). You often will have things due on either Thursday evening or Sunday evening, just like any course that meets twice a week. The schedule and the assignments are subject to change.

Learning Objectives
This course addresses the Social Analysis (SCL) Learning Objectives of the Rutgers
Core:
• Understand the bases and development of human and societal endeavors across time and place.
• Understand different theories about human culture, social identity, economic entities, political systems, and other forms of social organization.
• Apply concepts about human and social behavior to particular questions or situations.

Text
Stephen Sweet and Peter Meiksins. Changing Contours of Work: Jobs and Opportunities in the New Economy. 3rd Edition. Sage, 2015. (Please note: the third edition of this book is quite different from the first and second)

Assignments/Assessments
• 4 Threaded Discussions (Forums) – 90 points each (360 points)
• Op-Ed. Assignment - 150 points
• 3 Quizzes – 120 points each (360 points)
• Introductory Exercises - Pre-test – 20 points; Rights check; Union knowledge –
10 points each
• Take Home Final Exam – 100 points
Student progress toward understanding how work, workers, and forms of worker organization fit into these social science goals will be assessed through before/after test items and rubrics applied to written assignments.

Due Week 4: 500 word Op-Ed.
1. Op-Ed Writing Assignment Instructions are located on the Op-Ed page (week 4)
To submit your work: Click on the Submit tab at the bottom of the Op-Ed assignment page. Follow instructions.
2. Unit I Quiz – Check calendar for close date.

About Op-Ed Assignment:
Write a 500-word Op-Ed on social class and inequality. You can choose any one of the following three suggestions for a central theme (Op-Eds advocate an idea or a public policy).
• “Social class is real in the United States.” These Op-Eds are typically built around the personal experience of the author, their family, and/or people they know. See the New York Times website on social class for several examples.
• “Widening economic inequality is a big problem in the United States.” This type of Op-Ed needs to be built on facts (the Domhoff reading has many) but must be written in a way that is readable, convincing, and often illustrated by either personal experience or that of others.
• “We should reduce economic inequality in the United States by passing the following law.” Here you would need to choose a public policy that would help reduce economic inequality and advocate convincingly for its effectiveness. Explain why it would reduce this current problem.
