This course will explore and analyze the environment, participants, process, outcomes and impacts of collective bargaining. To facilitate the learning experience, the class will combine small group and class discussions, lectures and exercises. Additionally, students will participate in a mock contract negotiation.

Course objectives:

- Demonstrate an understanding of how to apply knowledge necessary for effective work performance
- Demonstrate an ability to interact with and influence others in a professional manner, and to effectively present ideas and recommendations.
- Work productively in teams, in social networks, and on an individual basis.
- Understand fundamentals and advanced concepts in collective bargaining and labor relations.
- Analyze key aspects of employment relations, including through the lens of current political and ideological debates.

http://academicintegrity.rutgers.edu/policy-on-academic-integrity. Written assignments will be submitted via Sakai and processed through Turnitin.
Class schedule:
The schedule of readings and assignments is below. We may need to move some topics (and readings) to accommodate guest speakers or adjust the emphasis as a result of class discussion. However, exam dates and assignment deadlines will not change. You should complete all readings before class, and come to class ready to discuss what you have read. Most of the class will be seminar style, and will rely on your thoughtful participation. The occasional lectures will not repeat the material in the readings, but build on this material, although you are encouraged to ask questions about the readings during class. There will occasionally be an assignment at the beginning of class (such as a quiz or short writing assignment) based on the week’s readings.

Books:
There is a Sakai site for the course, and most readings will be posted there. There are two books required for the class. You should have copies of both of these books (these readings will NOT be available on Sakai):

We will read excerpts from many other books, including:

- John W. Budd Labor Relations: Striking a Balance (4th edition), abbreviated as “Budd”

Collective Bargaining Agreement (CBA) Worksheet

Choose a collective bargaining agreement that is interesting or relevant to you. Read the ENTIRE CBA. Take notes on the following questions. Come to class with your notes as well as the CBA (in electronic form or hard copy). You must upload your notes to Sakai (the answers to these questions) no later than noon January 23rd. Choose a CBA that is of interest to you, as you will return to this contract throughout the semester. The CBA you choose should be currently in effect, or if expired, be the last agreement that exists for this unit (i.e. no successor agreement has been negotiated).

Note: If you have previously taken Employment Relations in Sports, you MAY NOT select a professional sports CBA.

You can find many collective bargaining agreements online by searching for the name of the employer and/or the union and “collective bargaining agreement” or “cba.” Many CBAs also appear on the employer or union local’s website. You can also find a large number of CBAs online on the US Department of Labor’s website, at http://www.dol.gov/Olms/regs/compliance/cba/index.htm

What is the date of the CBA?

Who are the two (or more) parties to the CBA?

What are the start and end dates of the CBA? How long is the contract?

Are there any provisions for contract re-openers or extensions in particular circumstances?

Is this work in the public or private sector?

How many job classifications are there? What are they?

Are skilled and unskilled workers treated differently?

Is there a no-strike clause in the contract?

Is there an agency fee/ agency shop clause in the contract?

Are there specific performance/productivity goals or incentives in the contract? What are they?

What are the wage increases for each year of the contract? Is the wage increase the same for all workers?

Is there a COLA (Cost Of Living Adjustment) in addition to the other wage increase/s? How is it stated/ calculated?

What is the health insurance plan- how much do employers and employees pay, what kind of coverage do they receive, are dependents covered (and at what cost)?
Is there a pension plan? If yes, how is it structured. If no, is there a 401K or other retirement plan?

Is there a provision for life insurance?

How many vacation days do workers get? Which workers, and after how many years of employment?

How many paid holidays are there?

How many sick and personal days is each worker allowed?

Is there a provision for Jury Duty?

Is there a provision for parental leave? What is the policy?

Are there any unusual provisions in the CBA?
