BRIEF SYLLABUS
38:578:566 Work and Social Change

COURSE DESCRIPTION:
Changes in the workforce; how economic and social changes are reshaping categories of employees; their organizations and movements; and their needs and desires. Uses both class and social movement perspectives to examine a variety of types of employees.

SMLR LEARNING OBJECTIVES:
IV. Theoretical Perspectives - Demonstrate an understanding of relevant theories and apply them given the background context of a particular work situation.

Theoretical perspectives on class and social movements are applied to a set of concerns facing employees today given widespread changes in the nature of work and work organizations. Implications for labor and social movements are a key issue in this class.

ASSESSMENT OF LEARNING OBJECTIVES:
Student progress toward meeting this learning objective will be assessed both through performance on exams and written papers.

TYPICAL COURSE REQUIREMENTS*:
N/A